SECOND DAY OF GOLDEN COVE FAIR ATTRACTS BIG CROWDS

Big Tents Filled With Attractive Exhibits of Fruits, Vegetables and Flowers—Good Racing Card Features Afternoon Program—Many Attractions

The second day of the Golden Cove county fair being conducted for three days under the auspices of Lowell Driving Club and Agricultural Society, opened with cloudy skies, moisture-laden and somewhat menacing. Nevertheless, the chilly atmospheric conditions failed to dampen the enthusiasm of faithful supporters of the organization, promoting the exhibition on Chelmsford, across just over the Lowell line.

More attractive exhibits were brought today to the big tents where fruits, vegetables, flowers, home-cooking displays and examples of the arts and crafts are displayed. The bad weather that prevailed earlier in the week, caused the absence on the opening day of 45 exhibits, which were to have been installed in the show tents several days before the opening date.

AIRMAN OVER CITY AS PART OF DAY'S PROGRAM

As a contributor to Lowell's Defense Day observance, Lieut. R. C. Moffat, U. S. air service, appeared over the city in a Curtis JN type plane at 12:45 o'clock this noon and flew around for 30 minutes. Because of poor visibility and low-hanging clouds the flier did not attempt any stunts. He traveled at an altitude of about 1500 feet and made a wide swing over the residential sections after leaving the downtown district. At 1 o'clock he disappeared down-river, but returned 15 minutes later, passed directly overhead and then turned his nose toward Boston. In five minutes the clouds swallowed him.

It was originally planned to send two De Havilland planes to the city, but inability to get them tuned up satisfactorily necessitated a change in the program and the lone appearance of Lieut. Moffat. Moffat has flown over the city a number of times when stationed at Devens before the East Boston airport was built.

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATIONS MARK DEFENSE DAY THROUGHOUT U. S.

Signalize the Separation From the Military Establishment, At Least So Far as Active Military Service Is Involved, Of General John Pershing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The nation's defense machinery intended for actual use only in the event of a war emergency, was given its first test today accompanied by patriotic demonstrations throughout the United States and its possessions. It was a limited test, the actual expansion plans of the war department being designed to cover a period of months, but dealing only with the question of personnel and not with supply, equipment, housing or training, the progressive stages were consolidated into this one day.

The day's program called for a trial of the decentralized defense machinery set up since the national defense act of 1920 was substituted for the pre-war system. Demonstration of the success of the new scheme of defense, will signalize the separation from the military establishment, at least so far as active service is involved of General John Pershing, who has devoted his time since 1918 to perfecting it.

When the defense day tests actually got under way today it was apparent the war department officials, after studying reports from outlying commands, that their hopes had been entirely justified by the response throughout the country of men who for the

STREET DEPARTMENT IS ON THE VERGE OF BANKRUPTCY

No More Streets to Be Opened for Paving Until Financial Situation Is Cleared—Balance Sheet of Department's Finances Startles Public Service Board

An acute situation in the street department's finances was acknowledged by the public service board at its meeting yesterday afternoon when a group of four city councilors, appearing before the board in regard to street improvements, were notified that the street department program of paving and macadam work could not be completed this year unless an amount roughly estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000 is furnished the department on loan.

So badly depleted are the department's finances that the board voted to instruct Supt. of Street Harry Doherty not to open up any more streets for any kind of paving until the financial situation is cleared. He was also instructed to complete paving with granite blocks, asphaltic concrete.

LAKEVIEW AVENUE COBBLER IS BUNCOED OUT OF $2800

Three Strangers Push the Old Time Flim-Flam and Get Away With Shoemaker's Hard Earned Coin—Case Reported to the Police This Morning

A cobbler of Lakeview avenue, whose name is withheld by the police, was the victim of a $2800 swindle yesterday as the result of "falling" for a diamond flim-flam game worked successfully by three unknown men.

An ancient custom was employed by the flim-flammers in relieving the victim's story as related to Capt. Peirce, he was first visited by a man, a few days ago, who left a pair of shoes to be repaired. They became friendly and the visitor succeeded in getting the cobbler interested in "diamonds," and also a small quantity of alleged gold, which he purported to be valued at $5000. He consented reluctantly, however, to part with the precious stones and the gold for half that amount.

The proposition did not appeal to the cobbler, but a second visitor stroled into the shop yesterday at a convenient moment. Friend Number One was there also, and again the subject of the diamonds was discussed. This time, the new comer became interested immediately and appeared interested in possessing the property. He said he didn't have the necessary cash, however, but could get it for a friend in Boston. Early last evening, he returned with the Boston friend, but in totalling the cash, it was found that they still were short. They then promised to recompense the cobbler three of four hundred dollars extra on a loan of $2800. The temptation was too much for the unsuspecting shoe man and he produced the money.

This morning, he learned to his sorrow that the diamond which was left as security, was practically valueless, and he reported the incident to the police.

GULBRANSEN

The Registering Piano

Real Piano Music—on the Gulbransen

The Gulbransen Registering Piano is an instrument played by music-roll-and-pedals, that you can play in a musical way, with all the expression and feeling you have.

To play what you will—as you will—when you will! To give full rein to all your undeveloped musical talent.

Just think what this means to you who have never learned to play by hand, or having once learned, have not had the time or opportunity to keep in practice! No tedious fingerling! No long study!

Just think what the Gulbransen means to that musically-promising daughter—so that growing young son—to live in, and share in, such musical, homebuilding influences.

Real piano music? Yes. But, make this test yourself—

Try any simple piece on the Gulbransen. You will be delighted at the musical results you can get—so natural and pleasing. Then try an operatic air, or something more classical. You will be agreeably surprised how wonderfully well you can play it. Whatever kind of music you prefer—popular, semiclassic or classic—you will positively marvel at the personality and life you can put into anything and everything you play on your Registering Gulbransen.

Street Department on Verge of Bankruptcy

crete and reinforced concrete only the streets already excavated and ready for paving.

The extreme necessity for more money or a complete cessation of street paving became known when members of the board were furnished a balance sheet of the department's finances up to date of the meeting. Of the original appropriation of $150,000 for paving, but $28,571.35 remains; of $100,000 appropriated for macadam, out of which is paid bills for asphaltic concrete and sheet asphalt as well as the expenses of the city. The balance, only $2,122.06 in left; and the $34,321.03 appropriated for new sidewalks has been reduced to $35,000.

Supt. Harry Doherty was called upon by Chairman Murphy of the board to explain to the city councilors present the reason for the money shortage and his defense was that his department requested for paving the sum of $330,000 and was granted but $250,000. He estimated the cost of completing the granite paving and macadam program at $75,000.

The councilors present, James J. Gallagher, Frank Stearns, Arthur Genest and Fred Sadlier, were staggered when the figures were presented. Councilors Genest and Sadlier suggested that a loan order for about $50,000 be presented to the city council Tuesday evening to cover the expense of completing paving work on Gorham street and Fourth avenue, Whipple, Walnut and Watson streets, all of which were on this year's program but have not been touched as yet.

Finance committee but could not say offhand how close it was to the debt limit. He wanted to check on figures of the cost per yard for last year and this year before going ahead on any loan. Councilors Sadlier and Genest still favored a loan of $50,000 and the city engineer expressed a willingness to draw up the order for them.

The meeting in default

The meeting was called to order at 4:15 o'clock with Chairman Murphy and Fred Leary present.

A hearing was held on the petition of Michael Slack et al. for a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders in upper Gorham street. Michael Slack and George L. Hinton appeared for the petition and there were no opponents.

Councilor Fred Sadlier asked that Walnut, Whipple and Watson streets be paved with asphaltic concrete this year as provided on the program of street work.

Chairman Murphy said there was no money left for the work, that there was only about $2000 remaining of the appropriation and that about 25,000 yards of the 37,500 yards scheduled to be done this year could not be completed.

The councilor was, figuratively speaking, left gasping for air when the figures were presented, but asked why no work was done in ward 4 when work was being done on all sides of it. He said, the relief now working in Gorham street were going to be sent to Fourth avenue.

which, they said, was flooded to a depth of a foot by Tuesday's rain. The petition was voted.

Councilor Arthur Genest sought information concerning the disposal of petitions for edgestones in Alma street and Jordan street and a sewer in Farragut street. Mr. Leary said the sidewalk and edgestones appropriation was exhausted. The petitions were referred for view and hearing Sept. 25.

The petitioner then rose to inquire if he had understood the superintendent correctly in saying that Fourth avenue was not to be paved this year. The superintendent said he was, and the councilor responded that that was "an awful slap."

Councilors Gallagher and Stearns inquired if Bridge street was to be paved as provided in the program. They received the same answer, the other councilor had "there is no money for the work."

Mr. Murphy said the reason was that the council had not given money enough for the work. Councilor Gallagher responded that the council had appropriated $35,000 more than was spent last year on the same work. "But not the same amount of work," said Mr. Murphy and Mr. Leary.

Senior Loan Order

The holding up of the emergency sewer loan order for $75,000 was brought to the attention of the board by Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Murphy was asked to reply to a number of questions regarding the "emergency" by the city's fiscal agents, the First National bank of Boston. Mr. Murphy expressed the opinion that unemployment would not be considered an "emergency" by the bank.

The councilor then asked how the amount of paving done this year compared to last year.

"About 5000 yards more," said Supt. Doherty.

"That is not so," was the verdict of City Engineer Kearney.

Chairman Murphy then said the program for 1923 called for 20,209 square yards and this year's estimate is 25,000 yards. Reinforced concrete, he said, was estimated at 12,200 in 1923 and 24,800 in 1924, and no appropriation was furnished for the work. The sheet asphalt estimate for 1923 was 2512 yards and for 1924, 12,050 yards. The program called for 37,329 yards of asphaltic concrete in 1923 and 37,560 yards in 1924.

The only money left for street work, said Chairman Murphy, is the $18,000 loan for Lawrence street which cannot be used for any purpose other than for paving that street.

Councilor Stearns expressed great disappointment that Bridge street could not be paved this year.

Councilor Sadlier asked about sidewalk repairs and was told that the appropriation was expended. Supt. Doherty said that a large number of sidewalks had been constructed this year.

The painting of the iron work of Central bridge was requested by Councilor Stearns and the same answer was given him in this regard as had been given the others. "There is no money," said the board members.

Supt. Doherty said it would be a waste to spend any more money on Central to Page 16

1924-1925 Winter Woolens

Old Time Fabrics

WOOD MILL WORSTEDS OF LAWRENCE, MASS.

These goods bought two weeks ago direct from the commission house of Frize & Co., Summer Street, Boston, Mass., lower in price than anything I have seen in six years, lower in price than any buyer of woolens can purchase them a month from today.

No other tailor or clothier in New England today can talk about an all wool and worsted BLUE SERGE suiting this weight under $35.00; and I contend these fabrics compare very favorably for weight and quality of merchandise with suits selling around $40.

For a limited time the merchandise offered in this fall display is very exceptional; a small deposit is all that is necessary now—the balance when you need the garment. Many of these bolts are now displayed in my windows, around eighty yards in each piece. Be sure and see them, for this is an opportunity to effect a very considerable saving.

Incidental to this sale I also wish to formally invite my customers and the general public to visit my store and see the new overcoat styles that the fashion experts and leading designers declare are correct and proper for this season.

I will have on display eighty-five ready-to-wear overcoats just completed in my own workshop. Made in the latest models for this season. In these special samples are coats for the young sporty man and garments for the conservative dresser. I make these up in the dull months of August and September. I use them for window display, or you can purchase any one of these garments at any time when you cannot wait to have a garment made. I find them most convenient when a customer is in doubt as to what style coat would please him best. He tries on the different models, tells the designer which one he likes, and we cut him the garment he wants. No obligation to buy—we will be glad to give you any information you may desire.

Golden Cove Fair
Attracts Big Crowds

next season, the management of six New England shows would be pleased to send special exhibits and attractive features to the Lowell fair without cost, to enlarge the scope of the Golden Cove program.

Today's amusement program included special race track events, starting at 2 p. m. Mrs. H. R. Philbrook of Concord, N. H., was scheduled to appear once more at the cove in a special match race. She appeared to excellent advantage in races conducted last Fourth of July at the Chelmsford track. In addition to the feminine attraction, there was to be one sulky race and one running race. The dashingly runners arrived late yesterday afternoon and are luxuriously housed in a commodious stable tent, located on the field close to the main entrance and inside the rails.

Judging of Exhibits

Judging of exhibits was started this morning. Department A includes the horse exhibits, with classes for pairs of work horses exhibited by farmers; work horses in open events; single horses over 1400 pounds, work horses under 1400 pounds, driving horses, saddle horses and ponies. Ribbon premiums are to be given in all classes except the contest for best saddle horses. The Hon. Marcha company has offered a silver cup to the winner in this department.

Only entries of cattle, whether for exhibition or educational purposes, can be listed in agricultural shows today after they have been accredited free from tuberculosis. There are many cash prizes in the Holstein classes, and for appearance. Arthur W. Gurnea of Braintree, will clean most of them up easily, for he has the only Holstein cattle exhibited at the show—two fancy bulls, one heifer calf, two milkers, one junior two-year-old and three triplets. The births of the triplets about a year ago, were recorded in "The Sun" at the time.

Chelmsford grange No. 244 has the finest farm products exhibit in the 1924 show tent. It is the cynosure of all eyes, for a fact, and occupies a prominent bench in the centre of the main tent.

The gladioli and dahlias exhibit under the Will Rounds management, is still a delight to every visitor. There are 130 different dahlias displayed in single vases, and 48 named and 60 unnamed gladioli. The variegated floral colors beat the well known rainbow. The size of some of the dahlias reaches six inches in diameter.

Fred Russell of Chelmsford has the most unique exhibition of farm products of the commonest varieties, according to fair officials and patrons all. It is a "special," and contains monster cabbages, ears of corn, summer and winter squashes and carrots. One Hubbard squash weighs 2 1/2 pounds. They are grown on "Aversa" soil that is not unduly nourished, but has good drainage.

Feminine visitors are deeply interested in the farm bureau millinery exhibit, as always. Nine hats are shown on the familiar spindle racks, constructed by farmers' wives at home, after taking the Middlesex county extension service free instruction lessons at winter gatherings in several churches and town and grange halls in county towns. The workmanship and material used are excellent and the designs modish to the smallest detail.

Imitation Apples

The farm bureau executives have an interesting exhibit for apple-growers. Apples made of wax, shaped and colored so closely in conformation to nature's design as to deceive the spectator, are exhibited in display cases under glass, for the purpose of showing the havoc that insect pests and dread contagious diseases affecting fruit trees and their products, are wreaking in New England orchards today.

Imitation apples, some of them showing gnarled, ill-shaped and spotted with rot or showing worm holes or rusty spots indicating diseased fruit caused by malady spread by unseasonable weather conditions, such as extreme dampness, are on display that all may see.

The apple-growers who find their fruit very often showing strange black marks and rotting ends, and do not know what disease is responsible, should visit the Lowell fair this week and inspect every wax apple in this amazing exhibit. It is an education revealing in itself, and will enlighten many an ignorant apple farmer, who is getting poor apple crops today and doesn't know the real reason why, because he is not familiar with the new pests that are coming yearly from foreign countries, apparently intent upon destroying all vegetation on earth. Farmers have known for many years, that the well known saying, "The insect is man's worst enemy," is absolutely true when it comes to tilting the soil.

The apple tree pests, all destructive and some of them listed at the Lowell fair descriptive exhibit, include the leaf hopper, the red mite, European corn borer, apple rot, curculio, red bug, cedar rust, apple scab and codling moth.

Lime and Fertilizers

There are special displays of lime and other fertilizers for use in home gardens and on farms, also an exhibit of a bundle of alfalfa, grown about five feet tall in a Chelmsford farm lot.

Judging of all exhibits may be completed by tonight, although the work will take some time. Tardy entries have been admitted to the contest lists, because exhibitors had a good excuse for not appearing sooner in the week.

The automobile tent is filled with new cars on exhibition, and it is one of the big attractions of the 1924 show. Expert demonstrators are present to explain the merits of the different cars.

Arrangements for the Lowell Kennel club's special dog show are completed. All entered dogs will be brought to the show grounds at Golden Cove, for registration tomorrow. It is expected that the entries will be large enough to make another record for the local club promoting it. William H. Rigby, president of the club, is chairman. Tomorrow, the race track card will be the top-notch of the work, it is anticipated. Three classes are listed, and the entrants are numerous in every event. Horsemen from out of town who have been here all the week, have several new animals on tap that have been kept waiting for the Saturday finale. There may be another running race on the oval tomorrow, also.

Yesterday's Races

The racing card at Golden Cove yesterday was an excellent one. The triple $300 purse offerings on the popular Chelmsford half-mile proved up to expectations, and the $40 trot, crowded with eight flashy entries, brought the expected thrills.

The first heat of the 240 event was marred by the spill of a driver, Ernest Pelletier, and the wild runaway of his steed, the brown trotter John Potter, due to the snapping of the sulky axle on the first quarter effort. Pelletier was thrown to the dirt near the inside rail, but was not injured.

The frightened hay galloped drivers around the Cove half-mile four times in rapid succession before being captured by a young man named Robert Cook, employed as a trainer.

Monster Parade Here Tonight

will include a monster street parade of patriotic humanity through the principal streets of Lowell, starting from the North common at 7 o'clock this evening, and proceeding to Memorial Auditorium.

The demonstration in the cause of liberty and a nation's preparedness is expected to make Lowell history. The favor of the enthusiasm of thousands of members of such Lowell organizations as the national guard contingents, school military organizations, organized reserves, veterans' organizations, fraternal and religious organizations, without exception, is sincere, appealing strongly to the instincts of those who realize what freedom in its fullest sense means.

National Defense day ceremonies, such as those to be presented tonight in the public thoroughfares of the city and in the great structure on East Merrimack street dedicated to Lowell's heroic soldier dead, are complements which, arranged in combination, present impressively one great civic display and demonstration of the inhabitants' preparedness for all emergencies threatening the safety and life of the United States and its possessions. And it is only a demonstration of preparedness, not a threat of pompous war stamp. It is an experiment, not a challenge. Today's programs all over the land in honor of National Defense day were actually prompted by a national desire to avoid the errors and confusions of the past, when war came without warning and the national life was threatened by its utter unpreparedness.

In plain words, today's exhibition of national preparedness for any eventuality that threatens the life of the American republic is a defense rehearsal, and in no sense a gesture of aggression. And Lowell is taking one of the most notable parts in the state and nation's preparedness exhibition programs—in some respects presenting one of the greatest demonstrations to be given anywhere in New England.

Monster Street Parade

It is expected that nearly 10,000 citizens will appear this evening in the street parade and also participate in the military ceremonies to take place immediately after the ending of the parade in front of Memorial Auditorium.

The national guard contingents in line will be commanded by Senior Officer Capt. George D. Crowell. Capt. Donald C. MacIntyre, D.S.C., will act as adjutant at the lowering of the colors, at retreat at the Auditorium. Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, D.S.C., will command the trooping of the colors in the Auditorium at the exercises to be held there.

The schools of the city today joined in the National Defense day exercises at 10:30 o'clock, when Supt. Hugh J. Molloy's recently published article explaining the meaning of Defense day, was read to all public school pupils in every building. This was the only formal program in the public schools today, as the school children are to appear in chorus singing tonight, in Memorial Auditorium, under the direction of Chorister Frederick O. Blunt of the Lowell public schools.

At the Auditorium

Gen. Malvern Hill Barnum, commander of Camp Devens, will head the list of regular army officers to be guests of the city at the Auditorium this evening. On the army officers' list will also be found Colonel E. E. O'Leary, ordnance department, U.S.A., Lieut. Brown, commander of the Boston airport, and several army detached officers. James T. Williams, editor of the Boston Transcript, is to deliver the principal address, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers will also speak.

Lieut. R. C. Moffatt, aviator, will describe the story of the world flight and present many incidental details not heretofore printed. The mayor will open the indoor meeting and Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., and Rev. Percy E. Thomas will make remarks. The ceremonies in front of the Auditorium will be very impressive. A large searchlight will display the illuminated colors, and provide brilliant illumination for the ceremonies in which the battery will participate in giving the national salute, and the salute to the colors.

The gold star mothers will be honored with seats reserved in the Auditorium for the evening exercises. The same honor will be tendered to Grand Army veterans.

Many Lowell business concerns have provided floral decorations for the platform in the Auditorium, and flags decorate the interior of the building on every side of the hall. Regan's military band will play after escorting the national guardmen in the parade from North common to the Auditorium. Other bands in the parade include nearly every organization in the city affiliated with local fraternal and religious societies.

Many Catholic societies will appear in this evening's street demonstration of loyalty to country and fidelity to the Stars and Stripes. The C.M.A.C. members have been requested to report no later than 6:30 p.m. at C.M.A.C. hall.

America's Legion Post

American Legion post 87's orders were issued yesterday in formal statements to members and Defense day committee officials. The veterans will assemble and Aged veterans, the school children who are to sing in monster chorus and invited guests and speakers, together with musical organizations and committee workers, will be the only ones allowed to enter the Auditorium, until the doors are thrown wide open after "taps" are sounded on the river bank outside the building. At the proper time, the public at large will be invited to enter and participate in the ceremonies that will officially close Lowell's signally impressive contribution to the program revealing the patriotism and strength of the municipality.

Darrow Says Caverly Right

Caverly, who sentenced them to life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Frank in spite of the state's demand for hanging, was right, Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, declared today. Mr. Darrow, after the close of the sensational trial in Chicago, came to the summer home of Albert H. Loeb, father of Richard, here. "In five years the whole country will know that Caverly was right," he said. "In five years Nathan Leopold will be well, everybody will know that the insanity part of the defense was the truth. It will take a bit longer for Dick Loeb, perhaps, but it's come. Perhaps people cannot understand the matter now as I do, but they will come to comprehension soon."

"Look at this place," he added, referring to the great Loeb estate and the palatial home, "and see if a sane boy could leave it. It's absurd."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

No farce comedy in recent years has attracted more attention than "Just Married," and the publicity earned by this play during its two years' run in New York has made it well known from one end of the country to the other. In fact it has been playing steadily throughout the United States and Europe for more than five years. "Just Married" is built for laughing purposes only. The play is the opening bill at the Opera House next week.

with the Stanley James Players appearing in the various roles including the famous Vivian Martin and Lynne Overman leading parts. The story of "Just Married" centres around a slightly inebriated young man who boards the French line steamship "Lafayette" by mistake just prior to the ship's sailing from Bordeaux, France, for New York. Later in the evening he gets into the wrong stateroom and the peace of everyone aboard is threatened. Old and young, sedate married couples, and several sets of honeymooners—willing and unwilling—are thrown into such utter confusion

ELECTED GRAND KNIGHT

Charles J. Landers Honored by Brother Members at
K. of C. Elections

Charles J. Landers was yesterday elected grand knight of Lowell council, 72, Knights of Columbus, to succeed the present incumbent of the office.

CHARLES J. LANDERS
New Grand Knight

See, Frank A. Groves, the election took place in the headquarters of the organization, Harrington building, Central street, the polls being open that there is apparently no way out of their difficulties. But order is restored eventually, and the voyage peacefully concludes. Phone now for seats.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Klein Bros., makers of the latest of comedy, are the week's headliners at the B. F. Keith theatre. They feature a bill of laughter and speed, and their work is very generally commended. Bob Murphy and—this is the label of an unusual turn, and Stafford and Mille. Louise present one of the best dancing acts. Then there are C. H. Horn & Co. in "The Automobile Broker," Louis London, a singer in character, and Poshnik's monkeys. "Borrowed Husbands" is the picture.

LOWE'S RIALTO
Only two more days remain in which local theatregoers will be able to see the picture that has set Lowell talking! And that picture is "The White Sin" which has broken all existing house records at the Rialto where it played to capacity houses all the week. Beautiful Madge Bellamy is the star of the picture and she is seen in the role of an innocent little country girl who is tricked by a rich idler into a mock marriage. "The White Sin" is a Fox News picture.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
In a Paramount picture brimful of thrills and crisscrossed with action that includes one of the mightiest climaxes on the screen, William Farnum makes a triumphant return to the silver sheet after a year's absence, in "The Man Who Fights Alone," the feature attraction for the week-end at the Merrimack Square theatre. Farnum's characterization of the capable, forceful engineer whose unwarranted jealousy and suspicion of his best friend all but lead to his destruction is nothing short of the work of a genius. Lois Wilson has the supporting role. Jane Novak in "The Lullaby" is the second feature attraction. It is one of the noted stage best pieces of dramatic work. Will Rogers in "Two Wagons—Both Covered," a satire on "The Covered Wagon," is the third feature.

For seven days beginning next Sunday afternoon the management announces Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucair."

American Davis Cup Defenders Meet Australian Challengers in Doubles

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—With confidence born of two clear-cut victories in the singles, the American Davis cup defenders met their Australian challengers today in the only doubles match of the competition, eager to hang up the third victory and thereby assure the retention in the United States of the famous trophy, symbol of international lawn tennis team supremacy, for another year. William H. Johnson of California will make his first appearance in this year's play today. Paired with William T. Tilden, national champion who yesterday conquered Gerald L. Patterson, star of the invading team, in such impressive fashion, he will meet Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, who bowed to the superior tennis of Vincent Richards of New York in the other singles match of the opening day's play. In addition to the Davis cup play, two other interesting matches were in store for the spectators today. The final round of the girls' national championship, in which Miss Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., and Miss Alice Francis, Orange, N. J., will meet, has been shifted to the Germantown Cricket club, where the international competition is under way. And, a doubles exhibition between Howard Kinsey, a member of the American Davis cup team, and Manuel Alonso, Spanish star, and Fred Kaima and Richard Schiesinger, member of the Australian Davis cup combination, also will be played.

PRESIDENT OF CHILE ON WAY TO BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 12.—President Alessandri of Chile, beginning a six months' leave of absence following the assumption of power by a military junta at Santiago, was en route to this city today on the Argentine presidential train which was sent to the frontier and placed at his disposal. Senor Alessandri, who became a guest of the American embassy in Santiago during the cabinet crisis, was accompanied to the frontier by American Ambassador Collier on a special train flying the American flag. At Mendoza he was received by the governor of the province and other high Argentine officials, and transferred immediately to the Argentine presidential train.

GREEK OPERA CO. GIVES CONCERT HERE

Liberty hall was well filled last evening and a gracious welcome was extended the Greek National Opera company, A. Contreras, conductor, which is touring the United States and Canada. Last evening offered one of the few opportunities for local Greeks to enjoy classical operatic selections in their own language, and their appreciation was shown by the attendance which greeted the singers. Present at the entertainment were Archbishop Vasilios and Rev. Fr. Constantinos.

A varied program of patriotic, love and comic songs in quartet, trio, duet and solo arrangement composed the excellent evening's entertainment.

The opening number, "The Ionian Sailor," quartet, a pleasing number provided ample opportunity for blending. Mrs. Kyparissi, soprano, supporting Messrs. Moraitis, tenor; Economides, baritone; and Vlahopoulos, bass. "The Haunted Bridge" was a solo by Mrs. Kyparissi, a thrilling composition telling of the experiences encountered on the enchanted structure. The solo work in this number was pleasingly interwoven with the more temperate parts.

"The One, or the Other," a duet, by Messrs. Moraitis and Vlahopoulos, a beautiful love song was generously applauded by the gathering.

"Djavelas," a patriotic number which told of the deeds accomplished by the hero who died for his country brought rounds of tumultuous applause.

"The Fisherman," in quartet arrangement, a jingling melodious composition, was most pleasing.

"Why?" a passionate love song given by N. Moraitis admirably brought out the rich tenor voice of the singer.

"Under the Moonlight," a trio for male voices with the solo part being sustained by N. Moraitis proved the stellar number of the evening and presented the singers at their best. L. Karamitris, composer-pianist was the accompanist of the evening and his instrumental interpretation of the several numbers added greatly to the general excellence of the program.

At a meeting last evening the members of the Pawtucketville Social club voted to participate in the "Defense Day" parade and to furnish a delegation. A committee consisting of Timothy Roy, Arthur Giroux and Louis P. Turcotte, appointed by President Alphonse Fortier, reported on plans for the parade. About 50 members of the club enlisted for the occasion.

Councilor Arthur Genest discussed the project of building a bridge across Beaver brook. It was announced that there will be a mass meeting Sunday evening in the club house in upper Moody street where the matter will be discussed further. All residents of Pawtucketville and Centralville are invited to attend. Plans regarding the improvement of Fourth avenue will also be announced.

SOLUTION OF NATION'S COAL PROBLEM

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Solution of the nation's coal problems rests with householders and the industries. It was declared today by Prof. S. W. Parr of the University of Illinois at a meeting of the section of gas and fuel chemistry of the American Chemical society, presided over at Cornell university by Dr. E. T. Haskam of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Reporting upon the chemical findings of the nation-wide investigation just completed by the coal storage committee of the American Engineering council, Professor Parr, a member of the committee, said that storage would cure the evils of intermittent mine operation, transportation congestion and irregular supply.

Other speakers at the gas and fuel chemistry session included Dr. Wheel-er G. Lovell, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and J. D. Davis, United States bureau of mines, Pittsburgh.

POLITICAL WINDSHIELD STICKER BANNED

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The political windshield sticker must follow the bathing girl into the discard.

This is the ukase of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin issued today. Draconic action is promised by the registrar in the case of any who fail to comply with the mandate.

"Complaints are constantly coming to this office," the registrar said today, "that candidates for office are pasting advertising stickers on the front of their windshields. From personal observation I know that practically every one of them interferes with the vision of the operator. Even when in the right-hand corner they are very likely to prevent the driver seeing quickly a small child who may leave the right-hand curb.

"Any man seeking political office should be public-spirited enough not to permit any of these to be used on any part of the car that may interfere with the operation of it. There are plenty of places on the car where these stickers may be put.

"If they are not taken off, I hope the police will prosecute those who persist in keeping them on, and when specific instances are called to my attention, drastic action will be taken by this office.

"The removal of the bathing beauties met with unanimous approbation except for a few cranks, and these political stickers, as a rule, are more of an obstruction to the view than the bathing beauties."

Retirement of Pershing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—General Pershing will be retired from active service tonight at midnight by orders issued and signed personally by President Coolidge, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States.

The order, issued only in cases of retirement of military officers who held the rank of full general, will take the form of a general announcement to the army that General Pershing has passed to the retired list.

It is probable that the order will be accompanied by a personal letter from President Coolidge, recounting the general's services to the nation.

Hundreds of reserve officers, many in uniform, for the first time since they were mustered out of the service, took the opportunity to bid farewell to General Pershing.

Messages of greeting were received by General Pershing from officers of the allied armies associated with him during the war. One came from Maj. Gen. Deben, chief of staff of the French army, who declared "your brothers in arms will keep alive always the memory of the eminent chief who brought the valiant American troops to France and led them to the common victory for right and liberty."

Celebration in Middle West

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—"Defense Day" was ushered into the middle west today by parades and reviews in which hundreds of thousands of national guardsmen participated and by patriotic rallies, parades and mass meetings where public speakers emphasized national preparedness. Half holidays were declared in a number of states and in hundreds of towns and cities. The major demonstrations, however, are scheduled for the evening in most localities.

Major-General Harry C. Hale, commander of the Sixth Army Corps Area, United States army, in a message to employees of all industrial establishments within the area, said:

"Our nation loves peace and hates war. We want no more of it, but nevertheless wars do come. This country has experienced a war each generation since its birth and I have to admit that our success in these wars has not been due to preparedness, but rather to favorable circumstances."

"Congress, in 1920, passed the national defense act. It is the first law that thoroughly considers our problem of national defense, and for the first time in history a plan was laid down and the war department authorized to prepare a national defense policy. Under the provisions of this law, the army of the United States is at present organized, trained, administered and supplied."

Two sham battles were fought today at Yankton, S. D., and at Evansville, Ind. At Jeffersonville, Ind., $75,000 worth of army supplies were publicly exhibited and several thousands of Indians near Wino, S. D., participated in a patriotic pow-wow.

In Wisconsin, despite the order of Governor J. J. Blaine that national guard commanders would be deprived of their commands if they called out their units, the day was observed with patriotic rallies and mass meetings in almost every city.

In Kentucky, Governor Fields called upon citizens there to assemble at county seats to "learn more about your national guard."

Major General John Hulen of Houston, Texas, commanding the 38th Division, announced that preliminary to Defense day, two units of the division had been recruited beyond their war strength and indicated that interest was such that the entire division would be easily placed on war-time basis.

General Hulen expects that reports today will show that the 38th Division has demonstrated that it can be placed on a war-time basis at call.

During the evening an entertainment program of instrumental numbers and dances was given by the following: Miss Susan Hart, Miss Mary Loftus, and Miss Mary Gallagher. Republican Convention To Elect Successor

Continued

Chelmsford and E. Gaston Campbell, Lowell real estate and insurance broker.

After a conference with the secretary of state, Edgar P. Dougherty, chairman of the Lowell republican committee, has called a special meeting of all ward and town committees in the Eighth district at Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, tomorrow, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a candidate to succeed Mr. Putnam.

Mr. Dougherty said today this is the approved method of procedure and is the legal method as outlined to him by the secretary of state.

Special delivery letters were mailed today to members of all ward and town committees urging their attendance at the special meeting, which will have for its principal purpose the nomination of a republican candidate to succeed Senator Putnam. The committees to attend include those of Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 9 of Lowell, Ashby, Chelmsford, Cambridge, Andover, Grafton, Peppercorn, Shirley, Townsend, Tyngsboro and Westford.

Chairman Dougherty will suggest to the meeting that all candidates be allowed to speak and state their qualifications before balloting begins. He favors a majority vote for nomination. E. Gaston Campbell was a candidate against Senator Putnam for the republican nomination four years ago and said today he would have been a candidate this year if Mr. Putnam had not been in the field. He is president of the Lowell Real Estate Exchange, a member of local clubs and organizations.

Walter Perham of Chelmsford, the other candidate, has served his town as selectman, assessor, overseer of the poor, auditor and insurance fund commissioner at different times and for a number of years has been moderator of town meetings. In 1917 and 1918 he was state representative from the 11th Middlesex district.

Indictment of Fahy Sought

Continued

D. Reich, Chicago, will be pleading with the Leavenworth parole board for the release of "Big Tim" Murphy, sent to the penitentiary by Fahy for the $100,000 Dearborn street station mail robbery.

Mr. Reich announced last night just before leaving for Leavenworth, Kas., that he will present affidavits from various witnesses of the Pullman, Ill., mail robbery for which Murphy is still under indictment, although the hold-up preceded the Dearborn robbery by almost a year.

The affidavits which he will present to the parole board purport to show that Fahy "framed" the identification which caused Murphy to be indicted in the Pullman case, Attorney Reich said.

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

Today the people of this country are called upon for a demonstration of loyalty in the line of national defense. It is a call that should not be ignored even though in reality it means little more than a reminder of individual duty and responsibility.

How vastly different such a call is from that which was issued repeatedly by Lincoln in the Civil war for volunteers to save the union.

When that call came, the men of Lowell were among the first to respond and they were with the first detachment despatched to defend the capital, then threatened with attack. Lowell had the further honor of giving the first martyrs to the union cause when Ladd, Whitney and Taylor fell in the riot on the streets of Baltimore.

Still later, in the Spanish American war, Lowell men did their full duty and from that conflict we had such heroes as George Charette, who volunteered to perform the daring feat of sinking the steamer Merrimack in Santiago harbor.

And when the World War came, Lowell men did not all wait to be drafted. Many of them volunteered for service in the army and navy and many there were who made the supreme sacrifice.

Today we may thank God that this nation is at peace with the world, and that while it is the part of wisdom to be ever prepared, yet there is not the slightest indication of war on the international horizon so that we can rejoice over a world at peace. Furthermore, there is a steadily growing sentiment that in the near future effective steps may be taken to prevent war and to establish a permanent reign of universal peace which would settle outbreaks between rival nations without bloodshed and thereby make another World War impossible. The agencies of destruction now available are too terrible to be loosed upon humanity even in a just cause. When war becomes but another name for extermination of a large part of the human race, it is certainly high time to think of some effective method of preventing such outbreaks.

When the boys respond to the call of Defense day, they go joyously and are not followed by the heartbreaking farewells of weeping mothers, wives or sisters. Oh no, today's exercises constitute but a dress parade, so to speak, and yet the day is a reminder of the duty of preparedness and the necessity of being ever ready like the Minute Men of Concord and Lexington to respond instantly when our country calls for defenders. Today she calls for a public manifestation of loyalty that may help inspire the rising generation to a sense of duty and responsibility in always standing ready to defend the country and the flag. In this every patriotic citizen should do his duty.

MR. DAWES BLUNDERS AGAIN

Again has Gen. Dawes, the republican candidate for vice president, run afoul of the party policy of saying only what will lead to catch votes and win favor with the electorate. Out in Colorado, Mr. Dawes spoke plainly just what he thought in reference to the economic problems confronting the farmers of that and contiguous states.

What was his panacea?

Simply have government regulation of production so as to prevent a surplus, cause a scarcity and thus keep prices high. That plan was promptly condemned for the reason that if the farmers saw any virtue in such a method of getting relief from their present troubles, they could adopt it themselves without government intervention or supervision.

But Mr. Dawes did not stop there. He would abandon the reclamation projects by which alone a vast number of farmers are enabled to maintain their holdings and make a living. Abandonment of reclamation would be equal to a sentence of eviction for fully 200,000 farmers who would thereby be left homeless and penniless. There are 1,200,000 acres of land brought under cultivation and made productive by reclamation through irrigation from water stored in great reservoirs; and although congress makes occasional appropriations, the expense is eventually paid by the farmers who cultivate the land. On this irrigated land is raised a large portion of the best sugar crop of the state which brings from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually.

The application of the Dawes plan would cause a loss of many million dollars to the farmers of Colorado alone and hence his speech has aroused indignation in the northwest, with the result that Mr. Dawes, who is making a tour of the western states, is using Mr. Dawes' speech as campaign material. The republican papers have judiciously refrained from publishing more than a mere reference to the obnoxious speech; but the democrats are to issue it as a campaign document. The Dawes plan, so-called, for the settlement of the reclamation issues between France and Germany, has evidently had some merit; but his opposition for the betterment of the farmers of Colorado and the northwest is pronounced a piece of the most stupid absurdity. The republican cause has thereby suffered seriously in the west; and not only Mr. Dawes but La Follette will use the speech as an argument against supporting the republican ticket. Senator Borah and other republicans are astounded at the Dawes blunder and it is likely that hereafter his speeches must be censored by the president or the national committee.

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA

It would not be surprising to find that the great powers will intervene in China to prevent a continuance of the civil war now in progress. The Chinese have a peculiar method of conducting war after the first few battles have been fought. The usual custom is for each side to win over the officials of the opposition by bribery. Thus it is already reported that one of the generals is offering very liberal sums to deserters from the other side. For example, if a private soldier deserts from the enemy and joins the forces, he receives $1000; if he brings with him a machine gun he gets $20,000; for an airplane $30,000; and for a full regiment or the head of an opposing general $50,000. It is difficult to decide in the present conflict, which side is right; in fact, it would be safe to say that both are wrong, and that as a result of the outbreak, the Chinese people will suffer irreparable loss of life and property unless peace be soon restored.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conscience is the best reformer.

The way of the drunken autoist is not always smooth paved.

It's only a few steps from the auto to the district court.

It takes a financial equitonalist to make both ends meet.

A little loving now and then 'has caused the shooting of some men.

To the pure all things are pure, and to the crazy all things are crazy.

It may be more blessed to give than to receive, but paying isn't half as nice as collecting.

A Thought

The smallness of our desires may contribute reasonably to our wealth.—Coburn.

He Needed It

The boy had been fishing for four hours when the inquisitive man came along and inquired what he was doing. "Fishing," replied the boy, tersely. "Got anything?" asked the man. "Yes," came the reply. "What?" queried the man. "Patience," said the boy, still more tersely.

The Poor Hooh!

"The Americans," remarked the distinguished and deeply serious visitor, "are a singularly stupid and people. They keep singing about the utter lack of bananas today." "Do you dislike the song?" "Not at all. But why should there be general rejoicing over the fact that the fruit crop is a failure?"

Know What Foss Meant

"Did you ever have an imbroglio with your husband?" asked the high-brow lawyer. "Never had an argument," "Then why are you asking for a divorce?" "She doesn't understand," whispered the other attorney. "Ask her if she ever had a fuss." "Did you ever have a fuss with your husband?" "O, plenty of dem."

Finally Understood

She was, apparently, a Frenchwoman who spoke Russian or vice versa, and when she visited the home office she produced her passport over and over again in the course of her conversation with several porters and messengers. Eventually they found a man who in 1910 had been transferred from the French to the North Russian front. After a long conversation in silence came to this man. Stopping the woman's conversation with one hand, he beckoned to his colleagues with the other. "Lady wants a house or a small flat," he said.

He Was Hard Put

Mrs. James was a very modern young wife and spent the greater part of the day expressing her views to the neighbors upon subjects artistic and literary. So occupied was she with matters intellectual that she suddenly neglected her home duties. One evening she noticed that her husband was looking somewhat depressed. "My dear Harold," she said, "you seem greatly disturbed of late—please tell me the cause of your depression." "I am troubled," he replied, "in endeavoring to carry out my slightest wish, and, d-d-d-d-d, by the way that binds us, and has bound us from that day when you first said you would be mine, I—I ask this boon, W-will you please put—some buttons on my shirt?"

Chores

The hills cares that fretted me, I lost them yesterday. Among the fields above the sea, Among the winds at play; Among the lowing of the herds, The rustling of the trees, Among the singing of the birds, The humming of the bees.

The foolish fears of what may happen, I cast them all away. Among the clover-scented grass, Among the new-mown hay; Among the husking of the corn Where drowsy poppies nod, Where drowsy poppies nod, Where I thought did and good are born.

Out in the fields with God.

—ELIZABETH B. BROWNING.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A very pathetic and rather tragic scene was enacted in the square recently. It was about 5.30 o'clock and as is the rule at that time the center was crowded with shoppers and workers bound for home. A young man seemed in earnest conversation with another gentleman who by the way carried a "grip" and soon the young man left with something clutched very tightly between two folded newspapers. Stopping in front of the old Courier-Citizen building, apparently to wait for a car, he kept looking about as though he were suspected. Then without a word of warning, something slipped from between the papers, and crash came the sound of broken glass and lo and behold what was the treasure but a pint of what kind reader—I leave you to imagine. Further who examined the label said it read "Aged in Wood," and hence it must have been good. The fellow gave one look at the broken bottle and its valuable contents flooding the sidewalk, and darted off up Merrimack street while sympathetic onlookers had all they could do to hold back the tears. It was interesting indeed to see men and women on their way by, stop and partake of the strong odor, then sigh for the days long gone by. It is presumed the young man in question spent one miserable evening pondering over the broken bottle. He must have been a novice in the business.

Rev. James F. Lynch of St. Michael's parish will represent St. Michael's Holy Name society at the convention which opens in Washington, D.C., on Sept. 18. To date, Fr. Lynch is the only local delegate who has definitely decided on attending the monster rally. Rev. Fr. Galligan of St. Margaret's church informs me that one or two men will go from his parish, while Rev. Fr. Sullivan of the Sacred Heart is contemplating sending at least one representative from his parish. Other branches of the society in this city will arrange plans between now and the convention date.

The auctioneering firm of W. E. Guyette has begun the circulation of advertisements for the sale of the old Lowell jail at Thorndike and Hale streets. Thousands of descriptive booklets are being mailed to various cities and towns and preparations are being made for the sale, which will take place on Sept. 24. The booklet, explaining in detail the property to be disposed of, contains pictures and diagrams of the interior and exterior of the buildings and land. It is quite attractive.

With the reopening of the various clubs affiliated with the International Institute comes the news that numerous arts and crafts will be taught during the year. Among the classes in domestic science are cooking, sewing, millinery and home decorating. A new course offered this year is the making of jig-saw toys, and decorative articles, two subjects which are of major interest to the attendants.

The evening classes of the Vocational school offer excellent training in various branches of domestic science for girls and mechanical trades for boys. It seems that the opportunities offered by these classes are as widely known as they might be.

The Middlesex Women's club which opens the first Monday in October has an interesting program to offer its members this year. If this year's offering but equals last season's program, it will be excellent.

OLD DOBBIN

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

A little ol' buggy, one-seated and frail, is the only one known 'round the place. As droopy-head Dobbin is switchin' his tail he is trottin' a lazy-like pace.

Right close to the curb goes the shiny ol' mare and it's horse-sense that makes it that way. What safety there is, Dobbin knows that it's there by the curb in this speed-crazy day.

An auto horn blows and the horse perks its ears; then they droop, just as suddenly, down. There still is a spark of the speed crazy fears as she travels around about town.

Forgetting ol' Dobbin is sentiment robbin'; how easy we all can forget. How changed is the scene from when Dobbin was queen, but her spirit is hangin' on yet.

DAWES ASSAILS LA FOLLETTE

Calls Third Party Leader the "Master Demagogue" in Address at Milwaukee

Says La Follette Aims to Undermine Constitution of Republic

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press) The La Follette Independent candidacy was attacked here in its recognized stronghold last night by Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, as "the quintessence of demagogism, animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of this republic."

Speaking in the Milwaukee auditorium, Mr. Dawes declared that "in the mass of clap-trap accompanying the La Follette effort we can see one steady purpose always in mind—the attack on the constitution of the United States," and it was to this "attack" that Mr. Dawes devoted most of his attention.

The republican nominee described Senator La Follette as "the master demagogue," warned against any party attempting to take a position in the half-way ground between "those who favor the constitution of the United States and those who would destroy its essential parts," declared this division to be the greatest issue of the campaign, and appealed to the voters of Wisconsin to decide the issue "by a full vote of the registered voters, not by the fractional vote which, for the last four years, has been cast in Wisconsin."

Mr. Dawes said he recognized that there were in the country "many men who are justly discontented but who are patriotic at heart."

"They may be opposed to certain things in the existing order, but they are not opposed to the existing order of things," he added. "I warn them that they should not be deceived by the catch-all phrases of this master demagogue, endeavoring to amalgamate them with the socialists, flying the red flag, in an attack on the constitution of their country."

The republican candidate combined with his attack on the attitude of the La Follette movement toward the constitution an assault on the statements made by Senator La Follette in his Labor Day address.

"In its strong appeal to the prejudices and passions of the people, the speech was unusual, but in no other way," he asserted. "Never in the history of the United States, has the common sense of the average individual received a greater affront. La Follette's speech should raise the question in the minds of the American people."

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Combination Ranges Are Now

Out of Date

In homes where there is no radiator or other method of heating from a furnace many people have installed what is known as a combination range—in which both coal and Gas can be used, the coal furnishing the heat for the kitchen.

The housewife has always found that this method was costly and has caused more or less dirt and dust in that one room in the house where she has to spend most of her time.

The person who values cleanliness and who is naturally thrifty installs a

MODERN GAS RANGE and a COKE HEATER

The Gas range will take care of the cooking at a minimum cost and with no dust or dirt, while the Coke Heater will heat the kitchen quickly and economically and with very little work.

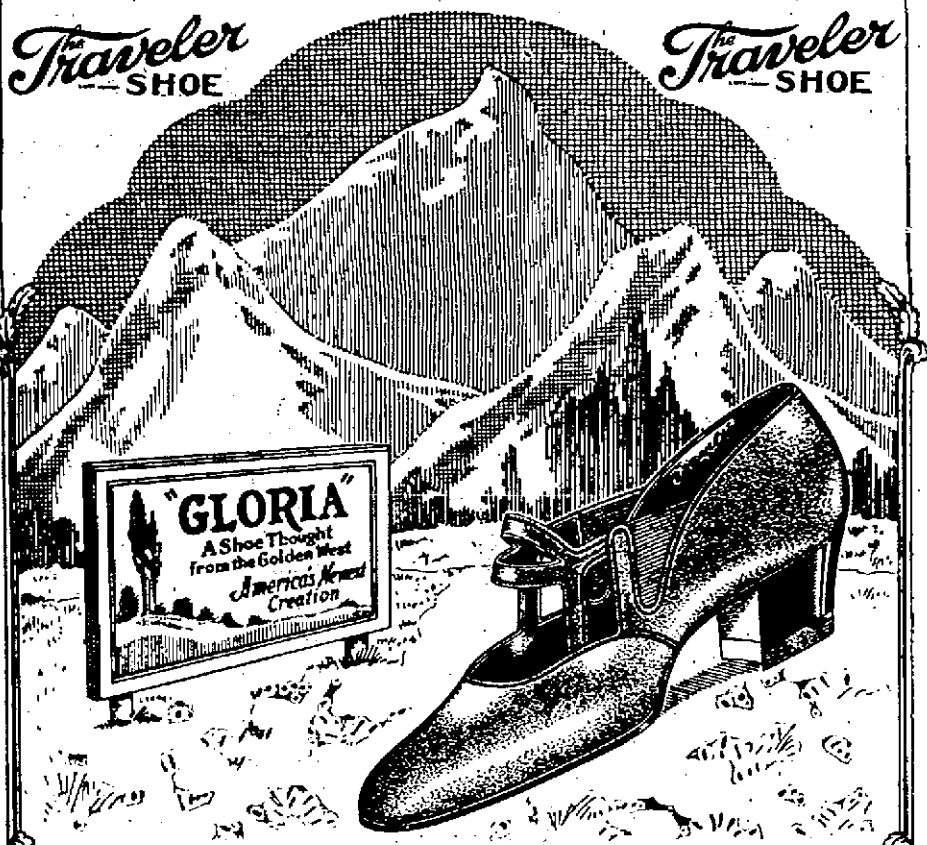

We advise those who are forced to furnish heat for the kitchen to ask about this ideal combination—Gas Range and Coke Heater.

Dawes Assails La Follette

Continued

People—Does he consider us a race of fools?"

Mr. Dawes in beginning his discussion of the La Follette movement, which he characterized as "the culmination of the most dangerous era of demagogism through which this country has ever passed," quoted the declaration in the La Follette platform for a constitutional amendment providing that congress might by enacting a statute make it effective over a judicial vote.

"This proposition," he asserted, "is to abrogate the principle of three-fold division of power—executive, legislative and judicial—which is the basis of our constitution, and make the executive and judicial power subordinate to the legislative power. It means that for our present form of government, we are to adopt another in which congress will predominate. The success of such a doctrine which would mean that the constitution would be stripped of authority, would be disastrous, and government would become the plaything of changing political parties, with demagogues in the saddle."

"The effect on the individual, Mr. Dawes told his audience, would be to place his bill of inalienable rights, evolved through centuries of struggle and conflict, 'at the mercy of congress' and subject these rights to the threats of 'mob action.'"

"The courts of the United States," he continued, "are the guardians of the inalienable rights of individuals, including the freedom of the press, the rights of property and religious tolerance. They interpret laws passed by congress in their relation to those rights upheld by the constitution. What kind of a government would this be if congress had the right to pass a law taking property from one man and handing it to another, directing a man where he shall go to church, and undertaking to encroach upon the individual rights recognized by all civilization."

The present constitutional government of the United States, Mr. Dawes said, provided in its system of checks and balances sufficient safeguard "to render certain that only the ultimate right and sound judgment of the people crystallize into law."

"The government whose policy is determined by the ultimate judgment of the people will permanently survive," he added. "The government whose actions are determined by the passing phrases of popular opinion, as distinguished from ultimate opinion, will perish. The constitution of the United States establishes the rule of the people as distinguished from the rule of the mob."

Such doctrine could not be classed as reactionary, Mr. Dawes said, adding that all good citizens should condemn the reactionary as usually pictured—"one who stands against honest progress in government and in favor of some status quo from which he is supposed to derive an unfair individual benefit."

"The most dangerous reactionary is the man attacking the constitution of the United States," he said. "Such a man would open the way for a condition of things under which again, in poverty, confusion and misery, the people must evolve among themselves, constitutional instruments of stable and free government, under which the inalienable rights of the individual are protected from the aggressions of the majority and from government itself. Let us not deceive ourselves! The doctrines of the socialists of the United States, headed in this campaign by Robert M. La Follette, are the reactionary doctrines."

Robert M. La Follette intends to withhold comment, at least for the present, on the attack made on him by Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, in a speech delivered last night in Milwaukee.

Intimates of Senator La Follette said today that he probably will make no direct reply to General Dawes at any time during the campaign. He feels, they added, that the public, particularly in his home state of Wisconsin, is familiar with his record in public life, and that it would be better to keep on the offensive during the campaign than to allow himself to be put on the defensive.

In discussing campaign plans with friends, Senator La Follette frequently has remarked that he prefers to abstain from personalities, confining himself to a discussion of issues.

"Perhaps," he said recently in this connection, "I may be forced to mention names, although I don't want to."

RUM-RUNNERS "PROTECTED"

Salisbury and Newburyport
Police Officials and Selectmen Before Grand Jury

To Be Questioned on Charges That Rum-Run-
ners Are Protected

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Police officials of Salisbury and Newburyport and three members of the board of selectmen were among the witnesses summoned to appear today before the federal grand jury which has begun an investigation of charges that rum-runners were "protected" in their operations by officials of northeastern Massachusetts cities and towns. Seabrook, N. H., which adjoins Salisbury, also comes within the scope of the inquiry, it was said.

Agents of the department of justice who investigated the charges reported that rum-runners and liquor dealers received protection in several shore resorts, and that bribery and corruption of officials was indicated. Witnesses admitted, the agents said, that the weekly "protection" rate for liquor dealers was $50, while rum-runners paid large fees.

The grand jury inquiry, it was said, was brought about by women of the towns involved who complained that the laws were being violated openly. The present investigation is the second undertaken by federal authorities, the agents said, affidavits procured in the first instance having disappeared from the files of the department of justice. The Salisbury selectmen summoned as witnesses are Roscoe George, Russ Getchell and Harold F. Congdon, the latter being also chief of police. Proprietors of beach resorts and businessmen also have been called to testify.

Street Department on Verge of Bankruptcy

Central bridge and Councilor Gallagher said that quite a bit would have to be "wasted" to keep it in repair until such time as a new bridge is built.

Councilor McVadden appeared to request the repair of several streets in his district but did not remain to enter into the discussion as to money.

Councilor Stearns then requested repairs to streets and sidewalks in the Christian Hill district east of Beacon street.

Councilors Sadler and Genest had been holding a conference while the meeting was in progress and finally asked what money would be necessary to complete the streets that they had asked about.

"It will cost approximately $24,000 to do Fourth avenue," said Chairman Murphy, "and $18,000 more to do Walnut, Watson and Whipple streets."

Supt. Doherty said Broadway must be done and estimated the loan necessary as $78,000. The two councilors favored the idea of putting in a loan order for $50,000, but Councilor Gallagher said that he would like to see comparative figures of cost per yard before going ahead. "We don't want to encourage wasting of money," he said, "and this year's work shouldn't cost more per yard than last year's." Councilor Sadler said the only thing to do was to get the loan and the city engineer agreed to draw up the order for him.

The question of time was then discussed as the greater part of the work included in the proposed loan must be completed by the first week in November. Thirty days at least will be necessary to get the loan through, according to Councilor Gallagher. The question of getting the money on an emergency order was discussed, but this plan was not deemed a good one.

Asphalt Work Discussed

Chairman Murphy then took up the asphalt work being done by the Indian Head Construction company. From the figures available, only $3000 was on hand yesterday to pay for the work and Mr. Murphy said he didn't see how the company could be allowed to go ahead with the work any longer, for it was not the policy of the board to encourage spending of money when there was no appropriation. Then he said to Supt. Doherty, "Don't open any more streets for granite block paving." He then added, "And stop all excavating for new construction throughout the city." His orders were put in the form of a motion and carried.

Mr. Leary asked what was to become of the men employed on paving and Mr. Murphy suggested that they be employed in digging weeds out of gutters throughout the city. Mr. Leary supplemented that a great many could be employed by the sewer department, and Supt. Doherty acquiesced.

The employment of 150 additional men in the sewer department, as voted at a previous meeting, was next discussed. Chairman Murphy suggested that as it was doubtful if the $75,000 emergency loan would be approved by the fiscal agents, he favored notifying the civil service to hold up the certifying of men for the jobs until the matter was settled. As a motion, his suggestion was passed.

A number of petitions and orders were disposed of and the board adjourned at 6.15 o'clock to next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

What is there about a cup of Coffee that you like?

Is it true that tastes are partly mental?

Is it true that many people think coffee is good because it has a great reputation?

Or, is there an indefinable something about a coffee which makes you like it better than any other coffee you ever tried?

Taste, we believe, is a sense that cannot be standardized. Personal preference, we believe, is just as subject to popular fancy as is a style that Paris sets.

You know what BEST means from that standpoint. But applied to coffee, it means satisfaction all around:

- that which folks talk about;
- that which makes it necessary to serve another cup;

We, as creators of La Touraine Coffee, have only a friendly battle with others who offer coffee.

There are human desires sufficient to earn a living for all who have coffee to sell.

And there are other GOOD coffees, too.

We can never hope that EVERYBODY will prefer La Touraine Coffee, although millions do. And the number is constantly increasing daily. It would take the "pep" out of life and business if everybody thought the same.

What the House of Quinby is trying—successfully—to accomplish is to—

Buy up to the highest standard of quality. Blend up to the highest standard of quality. Roast up to the highest standard of quality. AND KEEP THAT STANDARD UNIFORM.

And so, we'll rest our case—

Upon how YOU like the results of the famous La Touraine formula—a secret formula known only to a handful of men—a formula from which the House of Quinby never deviates in putting into La Touraine Coffee that INDEFINABLE SOMETHING which has made it the BEST coffee in the opinion of so many millions of people.

We cannot tell you as much about La Touraine Coffee as La Touraine Coffee can tell you about itself—when you try it.

Will you do that? Once?

And see if you agree with us when we say—"YOU MIGHT AS WELL HAVE THE BEST."

Baby Tortured Day and Night by Eczema

Resinol Stopped Itching and
Healed Sick Skin

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 10:—"I thought it might interest you to know how much Resinol has done for my baby. Her face was covered with scabs and the itching was so severe I had to keep stockings on her hands to keep her from scratching. I had to be up at night as it bothered her so she couldn't sleep. Two doctors, one of them a skin specialist, told me she had eczema. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped, so when I read in the paper about Resinol, I thought I would give it a trial. I can't praise it enough, for it has done wonders for the baby's skin and she sleeps all through the night now. I would advise anyone with a similar case to try Resinol Ointment." SILESIA TURNS TABLES ON ABBOTS AND WINS, 5 TO 3

Series Now Tied at One All—Greenhalgh in Form—
Teams Will Wind Up Season With Twin Bill at North Chelmsford Sunday

The series now stands: Abbots 1, Silesia 1. Silesia tied it up at North Chelmsford last night by defeating the Abbotsville aggregation by a score of 5 to 3 in an interesting game. Local fans will have their last opportunity to size up the contenders next Sunday afternoon at the home of the Abbotsville team when a double-header will be played, the first game to start at 2 o'clock. It will mark the last diamond appearance of both aggregations this year, and will decide the present post-season series. Abbots won the first game at Grantville Tuesday night by a 2-1 count.

Rube Greenhalgh pitched the Silesians to victory in last night's game. He was opposed by the southpaw, Eddie Boyce, who was touched up frequently by the mill hitters. The fifth inning proved his undoing when four big runs crossed the pen. Lowell's Henry Sullivan started the fireworks with a mean triple to deep left field, which gave the Silesia boys an incentive to go out and overcome a one-run lead that the Abbots had gained in the second frame. After that fifth stanza, Silesia played a snappy brand of ball and won out with comparative ease.

The game in detail:
First Inning—Abbots—Ellie Urann, the first batter, got a single past shortstop. Williams followed out to Faulkner. St. Angelo hit into a double play.

The game was in reality a battle between opposing pitchers, Noel of the Victorias and Richards of the Cadets. The men were evenly matched. Each allowed but two hits and each struck out 10 men.

The opening frame witnessed the first tally when Leconte was hit by the pitcher. He stole second and on the sackman's failure to catch a ball tore all the way around and collected a run. In the third round Leconte was again at bat. He slammed a one-bagger past the first baseman, stole second and repeated the performance at third, coming home on a sacrifice fly to O'Brien. Only two men managed to get on. One for the Cadets,

BIG GAME IN PAWTUCKETVILLE

The Pawtucket A.A., runners-up in the City Twilight League, and Kelly All Stars will meet on the new Pawtucketville diamond Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and a red hot game is expected.

John Kelley, manager of the All Stars, formerly headed the P.A.A. team and he has assembled a classy array of talent to oppose his former charge. Naturally there is considerable rivalry between the outfits, and both are prepared to present their strongest line-ups.

As the proceeds of the game are to be donated to the Building Fund society of the new St. Rita's church, the entire district is interested in the contest.

FOOTBALL

The Butler Blue football team are reorganizing for the season and will hold their first workout Sunday afternoon. Manager Nason requests that the following men report: Whitworth, Powers, Sarge, Madden, C. DeLaurs, Duff, Duffy, Neal, Gillis, A. DeLaurs, P. DeLaurs and McCann.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—Everett Morris, a right-hand pitcher, six feet, two inches tall and weighing 190 pounds, is the latest purchase by the Cincinnati Reds. Morris has been pitching for the Nashville club of the Southern association. He will report to the Cincinnati club next spring.

WESTERN TEAMS SLOWLY FADING OUT OF PENNANT PICTURE

Race in Each League is Narrowed Down to a Twosome—
Yankees and Dodgers Gain on Senators and Giants in Fight for First Place

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press) While the New York Giants are hanging by the tips of their fingers to a scant lead in the National League, the New York Yankees are driving frantically on the heels of Stanley Harris' Washington Senators to overcome the narrow margin that separates them from first place.

The race in each league is narrowed down to a twosome instead of a three-some, the western teams slowly fading out of the pennant picture. While the trot must still be considered in the running in the younger circuit due to the "breaks" in the schedule which favor it, the chances are looking more favorable every day for the American league pennant to fly over the banks of the Harlem or the Potomac.

Pittsburgh is also slowly emulating a sailing sun. The Giants yesterday spent an idle day while Brooklyn, continuing its relentless spurt to overtake the McGraw athletes, won over the Phillies and drew up to within speaking distance of the pinnacles. The Phillies, however, made Uncle Robbie know there was a baseball game in progress as the Robins were forced to stay 11 innings to win the decision, 3 to 2.

The Yanks gained yesterday by winning a pair from Boston, 4 to 3, and 3 to 1, while both Washington and Detroit sank their guts in the victor cup, the Senators frowning the Athletics, 7 to 4, while the Tigers nosed out Chicago, 6 to 4, in an overtime session.

Cleveland, "fugging" desperately to squeeze into the first division ahead of George Sinker's Browns, gave the St. Louis team a double trimming, 13 to 7, and 10 to 6. Frankie Ellerbe's circuit slap in the ninth inning with the bases saturated aided in bringing about a decision in the opener.

Bronze Panther Tames Wild Bull of the Pampas in Boyle's Thirty Acres

FRANKIE HEBERT KNOCKED OUT IN EIGHTH BY WEE WILLIE WOODS

Lowell Boy Stopped by Scottish Flyweight in Moody Club Main Event—Tommy Leonard Kayos Dan Mahoney—Gus Anderson Drops Jackson

The local boxing season got away to a good start at the Greco-Roman rink last night when the Moody club, successful promoters of glove battles here for the past several seasons, tried out the lid with four slashing bouts and a radio account of the Wills-Firpo battle.

With a view of terminating the show in time to permit the fans to listen in on the big heavyweight battle, the local card was run off with speed and precision, and as three of the four events ended in knockouts, the entire program was over early and the majority remained to hear Johnny Hogan's Mike, aided and abetted by the announcer, par excellence, Barney Horan, give the blow-by-blow account of the panther's triumph over the Bull of the Pampas.

Considerable extemporaneous comedy from heckling fans as Barney told of Wills' various blows added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Dan Mahoney, Mike Markham and Jockey Brady were there with the witty retorts. A few rap like this: Barney informs the gathering that Wills' shoes are two sizes too big for him. "Kidney stew." To another description of Wills' activities, Dan inquired if Barney was talking about the meat market in the square. Mike's big one came when the announcer said Wills lands one to head, bringing it down, the kid said, "Mike inquired 'What, the head?'"

Woods Kips Hebert

But the local card itself was a hum-dinger. In the main event Wills, flyweight champion of Scotland, won a knockout victory over Frankie Hebert in the eighth round. Hebert, a local boy, was in a tight spot in the eighth, the end coming in the eighth, when Woods landed one of his wild punches that sent the local midget to the mat to be counted out while in a kneeling position.

In the early part of the fight Hebert had the better of the argument, when he outboxed Woods and scored repeatedly to the head and body. Woods worked a cagey battle. He took many of Hebert's blows on the head and appeared content to shoot in heavy body blows, and wait for an opening to get over his rival driving sleep punches.

Woods was as wild as a hawk and many of his blows went low, causing Referee Martin Flaherty to turn him on complaint of Hebert's manager, Punch Mayo, who claimed the local boy was being repeatedly fouled. Hebert's boxing was superior and at long range execution he had it on the flyweight. But the body attack of the victor weakened Hebert, and forced him to forget his cleverness and try to swap punches with Wills. This was Woods' game. In the fourth round, Wills stepped to the front, and he launched a whirling windmill attack, throwing both hands with reckless abandon. He caught Hebert a wicked smash and Frankie dropped to the canvas, there to remain, until Referee Flaherty counted nine. He jumped up and closed in for the remainder of the distance.

WILLS BEATS FIRPO INTO COMPLETE SUBMISSION IN 12 ROUND BOUT

80,000 Fans See Negro Heavyweight Decisively Defeat Argentinian in Bout That Surprised Gathering by Going the Distance at Boyle's Thirty Acres

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press.) The panther has tamed the wild Bull of the Pampas in the battle for supremacy among the ring's junglemen.

This was the conviction that close to 80,000 spectators carried away with them last night after Harry Wills battered and beaten Luis Angel Firpo into complete submission in a 12-round bout that surprised the entire gathering by going the limit.

Margin Declared

When the smoke of conflict had lifted from Boyle's Thirty Acres, Wills stood out as the conqueror by a margin so decisive that it left no room for debate.

While Firpo's mighty right was reduced to impotence by a crafty, shifty defense, the giant negro knocked the brawny Argentinian down for a count of four in the second round and whipped him thoroughly in the other 11 with a slashing, bruising, merciless battery of thrusts to head and body.

Wills won by a one-sided margin on points. He fought a cool, carefully planned battle. In superb condition and employing all his assets of speed and strength, he blocked and dodged the most furious of Firpo's rushes and at the same time delivered an attack at close range that steadily beat down even the staunch courage and endurance of the massive South American.

But convincing as was Wills' triumph over Firpo, and his proof that he was coming back to remarkable fighting condition, his performance did not in the opinion of most critics, brighten whatever prospect he has of dethroning Jack Dempsey. To those who watched the giant negro pound and wrestle his ponderous opponent into submission, there remained a conviction that for the present at least, Dempsey has little to fear.

Wills showed all the ring craft, speed and skill which has lifted him close to the top of the heavyweight heap. Firpo, crude as he is, looked under by comparison but in the final analysis the fact remained that Wills did not have the power behind his punches to send Firpo down for his final count.

How to Chin, Drops Firpo

The negro flayed Firpo with every blow in the fist category—sharp jabs to the ribs and kidneys, rapid thrusts to jaw, sweeping rights to the head and body and short left uppercuts that stung. It was a straight right to the chin that sent Firpo reeling to his back in the second round, but though the Argentinian was on the verge of a complete knockout, Wills could not successfully follow up his advantage.

That outstanding blow was delivered under unusual circumstances. It came as they were branking from a clinch and with Firpo's guard down, unsuspecting. Wills, seeing such an opening, shot over his right hand squarely and with full force, but Firpo was quickly on one knee and back into the fray.

Wills staggered Firpo on several other occasions, but he was slow to follow up his advantage. Several times in spasmodic rallies, Firpo connected with his right swing. But none landed with the force of the drive that sent Dempsey flying out of the ring a year ago and none had any decisive effect upon the negro.

Receipts Close to $200,000

During the bout Firpo frequently complained of Wills' holding and tactics on the breaks.

The Argentinian and his handlers claimed Wills was resorting to foul tactics, but Referee Danny Sullivan declined to uphold their contentions.

No definite figures on the receipts were available early today but Rickard placed the amount at close to $200,000, which sets a new high mark in financial returns for a non-championship bout.

Of this amount Firpo will receive much more in spite of defeat than Wills in victory. The Argentinian was understood to have been guaranteed close to $250,000 while Wills' share was placed at $100,000.

Fight by Rounds

Round 1—They met in a clinch in the center of the ring and Wills landed a right to the chin. They clinched again in the center of the ring, the referee pryed them apart. Wills staggered Firpo with a right to the chin. Wills exchanged blows at close quarters. Wills got in three heavy blows without a reply. There was much wrestling. Firpo staggered Wills with his heavy right, first to the body and then to the jaw, but the negro was unhurt.

Round 2—Firpo landed four rights to the jaw as they met in the center of the ring. Wills staggered the negro with a body punch. Firpo was landed his right hand to all parts. Wills knocked Firpo down with a left to the jaw, but he was up at the count of three, apparently unhurt. Firpo fell into a clinch when he got up. Firpo was tied with his right. Wills missed a right. They continued to clinch. Firpo landed his right solidly to Wills' head as the bell rang.

Round 3—Firpo rushed to his corner with a characteristic leap, but Wills immediately fell into a clinch. Wills landed blows at close quarters whenever possible. Firpo landed to the head and body with his right and Wills right to the body in exchange. Wills landed effectively to Firpo's body when the Argentinian attempted to hang on. Firpo landed a beautiful uppercut with a barrage of body blows. Firpo missed a lunging right just as the bell sounded.

Round 4—They fell into a clinch at the bell. Firpo's right found Wills' body and the negro immediately clinched. The referee used his knee to pry the two apart. The referee warned Wills for holding on. Both landed pretty accurate punches. Firpo was wild with his right. Wills staggered Firpo with a right punch on the face, but the negro did not follow up his advantage. It was the best blow of the fight. Firpo, apparent with his right. Firpo missed a right and got a right uppercut to the jaw in return. They were in a clinch at the bell.

REGAN WILL CAPTAIN ST. PETER'S CADETS

At a rousing and enthusiastic meeting of the St. Peter's cadet football squad held at the St. Peter's school hall Wednesday evening, Francis Regan, popular local athlete, was the choice for captain of the team for the season. The team will play its first game on the gridiron, Edward J. Rogers was again chosen to fill the position of manager for the team, and that the members hold "Eddie" work hard and win. There was plenty of election to this important position. Regan is a very fine athlete and should prove a real leader. It was stated at the meeting that the staff schedule planned for the boys this year, but if enthusiasm and willingness count for anything, the St. Peter's team this year is bound to go out and give the best team of the state a fight. It is expected that a coach will be engaged in a few days and immediately afterwards practice will commence.

Bamboo writing pens have been used for more than a thousand years in India and are still in high favor.

WILD CAT FOOTBALL TEAM

The Wild Cat football team will hold its first practice Monday night at 7 o'clock at the corner of Stanley and West Sixth streets. All wishing to play should wear their Golden Bells Monday. Corbett, Garvey, Cashman, Ducharme, Golden, Mayo, Blinkhorn, Davin, Sheridan, Kelley and Ellison are requested to report.

po and the Argentine clinched. Both landed to the body. They clinched. They wrestled around the ring, pulling and hauling at each other. Firpo landed twice to the head. Wills was blocking beautifully. Firpo could not get a blow. Wills hammered Firpo's kidneys. Wills' right stung Firpo, the Argentine countering with another right to the head in return. They were sparring for an opening at the bell.

Round 6—They exchanged rights and lefts and both landed. Wills landed body punching at close quarters. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' head. The negro smiled as he blocked Firpo's heavy right. Wills rushed to the ring to evade one of Wills' rushes. They continued their wrestling tactics. Wills' right found Firpo's jaw again, but the South American got up and uppercut which sent Wills' head backward, just as the bell rang.

Round 7—They fell into their usual clinch as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo danced away from Wills' right. The Argentinian's plunging rushes were missing. Wills doubled Firpo with a right to the body. They pulled and hauled each other around the ring, hitting with their free hands at any opening available. Firpo got a right and left to the head, which Wills could not block, but no damage was done. Wills jabbed with his left and crossed with his right, staggering Firpo. In his own defense, the negro was hitting harder than his opponent. A right to the jaw made Firpo groggy. Two heavy body blows followed, but the bell stopped Wills from following up further.

Round 9—The negro tied Firpo up when he started one of his rushing attacks. Firpo led with his right and fell into a clinch. They exchanged body blows at close quarters. The negro's reach was bothering Firpo. Wills stood off and peppered Firpo at long range, landing effectively six times without an absolute return. Firpo was going away as Wills' right struck his jaw. The negro was gaining confidence. Firpo led with his right but Wills cleverly blocked the blow and caught Firpo on the chin. The coming in. Firpo's right hit Wills' head on the head but the negro only smiled. The bell stopped the fight in the middle of a clinch.

Round 10—They exchanged body blows. Firpo protested to the referee for hitting in the clinches. Wills' heavy right was finding Firpo's body consistently. Wills landed a one-two punch to Firpo's head and the Argentine clinched. Wills landed to Firpo's body but took a stiff one in his wind in return. Firpo danced away from a right and then clinched. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' jaw and followed it with a right to the body which stung the negro. Wills took a beautiful right on the jaw just as the bell rang.

Round 11—Wills rushed to meet Firpo but the Argentine clinched. Wills hooked his right to Firpo's jaw as the referee attempted to part them. Firpo landed his right to Wills' jaw and followed with right to the body, but the blows lacked steam. There was much wrestling and hanging on by both principals. Firpo stung his right to Wills' jaw twice in rapid succession, but the negro kept concentrating to Firpo's body, which was pink from the heavy battery of blows which he had absorbed. Firpo was getting his right over better but also taking plenty of body punishment. They were tied tight at the bell.

Round 12—They shook hands. They immediately clinched, Firpo hanging on desperately. Wills was open up trying frantically to put over a finish blow. He continued his relentless body attack. Firpo was hanging on savagely. Wills missed a right but landed two successive rights to the head a moment later. Firpo landed his right straight to Wills' face, but the negro continued to smile. They continued their clinching and wrestling tactics, Firpo getting the worst of the exchanges which followed. They were clinched at the bell.

Golden Cove Fair Attracts Big Crowds

at the famous racing stables of Fred L. Burke, in Rowley, Mass. Mr. Burke is a trainer of grand circuit horses. Cook knows all their whims and funny notions, and proved it yesterday at Golden Cove.

The spectators picked out the No. 1 track course as promising for real class and nip-and-tuck racing, and they picked a winner by their selection. When Albie Delmar, Lynsky's bay gelding, made up at the Cove brown gelding, match up at the Cove track on any occasion, there is always a battle. Yesterday's first race brought the rivals together once more and each of the three heats run off were slizlers, with neck-and-neck stuff most of the way around the two while Delmar capturing three of the four heats.

Barcelona did his best work in the first heat, but Delmar was not pushed to the limit on the first round.

The second race was not the fastest ever time-locked at the half-mile in Chelmsford. It took Marlinso 2.15, 2.16½ and 2.17½ in the respective three heats to win, which is not 2.12 by any means.

The last race of the opening day brought out eight horses, with such drivers of the popularity label on track as Carr, Dimodana, Young, Thomas, Fletcher, Pierce, Arnold, Ryan and Peltier. Mannans with Carr won all three heats, although Dimodana's Aquilin D was no small potatoes in each heat, pushing the leader hard several times and easily distancing Todd in third position, notwithstanding Young's excellent driving.

Fletcher's horse, Barcelona, played the same cards for the man from Ayer as in the 2.12 race. One-fourth and two-fifths were the best the veteran horseman could do with the old-time bay mare that can't land a 2.40 today as she used to easily in days gone. And Fletcher never yipped once!

KLANSMEN ARRESTED

Two Held at Des Moines on Charges Filed by Catholic Charities Organization

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—Two representatives of a local Ku Klux Klan newspaper were under arrest today facing a charge of trespassing as a result of complaints filed with Mayor Carl Carver by the executive committee of the Catholic Charities organization which are in national conference here. Suspension of several policemen also was being considered by the city council.

The mayor held a conference with members of the Catholic charities executive committee and heads of the police department yesterday.

At the conference was displayed a copy of a Ku Klux Klan paper issued yesterday, which carried a photograph similar to the one reported to have been obtained Tuesday night at the Coliseum. The photograph showed a Holy Name society banner flying above an American flag.

The Catholic charities executive committee alleged that two men entered the Coliseum Tuesday night, placed the Holy Name banner above an American flag on a flag pole and photographed it in that position and that two policemen escorted them to the hall from police headquarters, on instructions from Night Captain Devies.

Police Officers Suspended
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—The Des Moines city council today adopted a resolution calling for the suspension of Police Captain William Devies and Patrolmen J. J. J. and J. J. J. pending an investigation by the civil service commission of charges by the executive committee of the national conference of Catholic charities that the policemen were implicated with Ku Klux Klansmen in an anti-Catholic propaganda plot.

A. F. OF L. JOINS IN FIGHT AGAINST WAGE CUTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Samuel Gompers and Frank Morrison, president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor, have sent telegrams to the United Textile Workers of America, in convention here, pledging the federation's support in the textile union's fight against any attempts to cut wages. Delegates to the Textile Workers' convention yesterday gave the general executive board of the union full power to frame such measures as will halt the movement to reduce wages.

The stand of the union on the wage question was set forth in a resolution dealing with wage cuts put into effect by the Manville-Jencks company in Rhode Island.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the union, said that the Manville-Jencks company reduced wages 10 per cent at the Globe mill, Woonsocket, R. I., early last month and that wages had been reduced at the Social mill. Similar wage cuts were also planned, he said, at the Nourse mill as well as in the company's North Carolina mills. From about 1,000 workers employed in the eight mills owned by the company would be affected, he said.

The question of amalgamation of the United Textile Workers with the Independent textile unions not affiliated with the A. F. of L. is to be considered today.

BRITISH READY TO AID LITTLE ENTENTE

GENEVA, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The representatives of the little entente have been informed that Great Britain will not only stand ready to extend economic penalties against any aggressor states but will also subscribe to a general agreement to afford assistance to maintain world peace, it was stated on good authority here today.

This assurance has created a favorable impression among the smaller European states and has strengthened the idea already prevalent in League of Nations quarters that England and France are closer than some people think to a settlement of the problem of security which the French insist must accompany any acceptance of compulsory arbitration.

A difficulty arises in working out the formula for, apparently, Great Britain will hesitate to commit herself in advance to throwing the weight of the British navy into any conflict, contenting herself with the blanket provisions outlined in Article 16 of the covenant of the league, which Prime Minister MacDonald has characterized as stronger than most people imagine.

Help from the British army is now excluded from the French plans because Paul Boncour, of France, realizes that it is neither possible nor expedient to force any army conscription system upon Great Britain.

APPROVE "STORE DOOR DELIVERY" PLAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Five hundred members of the Atlantic States Shippers' Advisory Board, in conference today, with railroad executives, approved adoption of the "store door delivery" plan, under which railroads will maintain fleets of trucks for the transportation of merchandise from shippers' plants to car-loading points. It is stipulated that although the shippers shall bear the expense of the trucking service, the railroad shall assume full responsibility for shipments to and from the store door of the shipper.

The plans, as proposed by the executive committee of the advisory board, a regional organization of manufacturers and railroad chiefs designed to iron out traffic problems, will gradually be put into operation on all large Atlantic seaboard lines.

COMMUNIST PARTY ON BALLOT

The work of obtaining signatures to petitions in other states is proceeding.

DISCUSSES SOCIALISM

Premier MacDonald Writes New Addition to His Well Known Book on Socialism

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press) That the present day tendencies among the workers threaten the ideals of genuine socialism is the fear expressed by Premier MacDonald in a preface he has just written for a new addition to his well-known book on socialism. After defending socialism as evolutionary, not revolutionary, the premier writes: "The revolutionary and materialistic frames of mind created by the war are becoming a serious menace to the socialist spirit of common service. Profiteering had become universal. The evil is not confined to the classes generally designated as profiteers but has infected all sections."

The premier complains that in the legitimate struggle to remedy their hard and unjust conditions, the workers are being tempted to force. They are all interdependent members of a social unity and consequently only injure themselves by punishing those against whom they have grievance to such an extent that they injure the society to which they belong.

TRIO TWICE NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 11.—Three men aboard the 42-foot power yacht Eunice, believed to be owned in Newport, R. I., twice had narrow escapes from death in the waters of Buzzards Bay yesterday afternoon.

About 3:30 when the craft was a few miles south of Hen and Chickens Lightship, she caught fire in the bilge and blew up when the flames reached her gasoline tank. The men donned life preservers and put off in a small mahogany tender. They started to row for shore ten miles away through heavy seas. When about a mile from Westport harbor their frail craft capsize. They were washed up to the beach by the breakers little worse for their experience and left the scene without revealing their identity.

CANADIAN TELEGRAPH OPERATORS STRIKE

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11.—Telegraph operators employed by the Canadian Press went on strike this afternoon in accordance with an ultimatum served by the operators' general committee that the men would leave their keys if The Canadian Press did not withdraw its recent proposal to decrease the wages of the telegraphers.

NEW ENGLAND CROP SERVICE BULLETIN

WAKEFIELD, Mass., Sept. 11.—August conditions for potatoes were more favorable than in July in four New England states, changed but little in Rhode Island and declined slightly in New Hampshire, according to a bulletin issued today by the New England crop reporting service of the United States department of agriculture, which promised 41,971,000 bushels, compared with 28,596,000, the five-year average. Quality is likely to be high and further increase in production seems probable. Arostook county crop promises good yields of excellent quality.

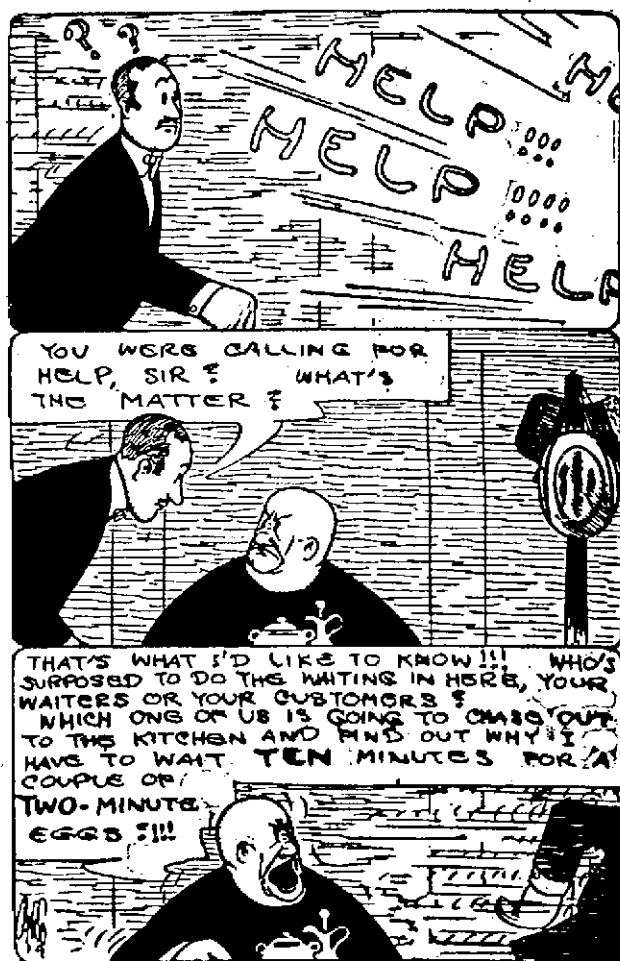

On Sept. 1, a crop 88 per cent harvested with 29,488,000 bushels indicated 70 per cent of the New England total, on Aug. 1.

TEN KILLED IN RIOT
SINGAPORE, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Ten persons were killed and twenty wounded during communal rioting Tuesday and yesterday at Kohat in the northwest frontier province. The trouble began on Tuesday when firearms were used and when there was some incendiary.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

EVERETT TRUE

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide-circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

LOWELL MAN FINED $600 AND SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS IN HOUSE OF CORRECTION

Raphael T. Palardy of 381 Wilder street, this city, former treasurer of the Notre Dame de Lourdes Credit union in Branch street, yesterday, was sentenced to serve two years in the house of correction and fined $600 after pleading guilty to a charge of larceny of about $15,000 from the union.

Palardy was arraigned before Judge Richard T. Irwin in the superior criminal court at East Cambridge for the purpose of retracting an original plea of not guilty, entered when first arraigned on Tuesday after a grand jury indictment had been returned against him. On the new plea of guilty, presented through his attorney, Arthur L. Eno, Palardy was sentenced and fined.

Palardy disappeared from the city about two months ago when he failed to return home after a vacation period supposed to have been spent in Canada. The books of the Credit Union were examined and his accounts were found to be in such a condition as to justify the issuance of a warrant for his arrest. He later returned to Lowell and gave himself up to local police.

In the meantime, Joseph A. N. Chretien, city councillor and well known French-American citizen, was elected treasurer of the bank and now is in full charge of its affairs.

CARTED OFF 750 POUND SAFE

BROCKTON, Sept. 11.—Some time during the night thieves jimmied the door of the Philip Brady Coal Company office, drove a truck up to the door, loaded a 750 pound safe on it and drove away. The safe contained less than $100 in money but the firm's books and valuable papers are gone. Previous attempts had been made upon the safe.

No Truth in Statement That He Was Responsible for Hanihara's Firm Note

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(By the Associated Press) Secretary Hughes said today there was no truth in the statement made in Tokyo by Bishop Raitensider that the secretary himself was responsible for the frank tone of Ambassador Hanihara's celebrated immigration note. The secretary characterized the bishop's statement as absurd.

Get THE SUN Classified Ad Habit

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 22

Just as he struck the match he saw two large shining spots back among some of the thick brush. In his sudden fright he jerked the match out and this made the bright spots that much brighter. At first Jack thought it was two little lanterns. Then there came a low growl, from where the bright spots were.

"It's a jungle animal," said Jack to himself. Then he dropped down on the ground, fearing the animal might see him. For a long time the little adventurer lay perfectly still, holding his pet monkey close to his side. Finally the monkey slipped away from Jack and went scampering towards the bright spots.

Jack watched Flop as best he could in the dusk. Suddenly the little fellow hopped to the lower branches of a low-hung tree and then worked his way higher and higher. Jack noticed that this tree was just above the jungle animal and wondered what Flop was going to do. (Continued.)

"BUT WILL THEY FIT?" ASKED MRS. FROG ANXIOUSLY.

"We're getting along just fine," said Mister Snip Snap to the twins. "If we keep on we'll soon have all the children of Meadow Woods-Barnyard land ready for school. There is one person who hasn't been in to buy anything yet, and that's Mrs. Frog. She hasn't brought a single one of her boys in to get a school suit. Suppose you go, Nick, and see if you can coax her to come to our store in the woods and get them some clothes."

"All right," said Nick. "I'll go right away."

So off he went.

And it didn't take him three minutes to find the place where Mrs. Frog lived because his shoes were magic. You, my dears, would have hated, and I should have hated, for days and days together without finding her house under the big tree in the pond. But Nick went right straight to it. And he knocked on her front door.

Mrs. Frog herself opened it.

"Why, how d' do!" she said, for she was a pleasant person.

"I'm pretty well, thank you," said Nick. "And I hope you are well, too! I came to tell you about the new store called 'Nancy, Nick & Company.' I'm Nick. We have all sorts of school clothes, and we were thinking that if any of your children were going to start to school, you might be wanting to buy some."

"But will they fit?" asked Mrs. Frog anxiously. "If they shouldn't happen to fit, what would I do?"

"Oh, well, give you your money back," said Nick.

"All right, then," said Mrs. Frog. "You may take their measure now and make a suit for each of them. They are all boys."

"That's just fine," said Nick. "I'll measure them now and we'll make suits for them and send them in about a week."

"All right," said Mrs. Frog, calling to her pollywog children who were swimming near the front door.

"Come, boys, and hold still while this gentleman measures you for your new school suits," she said.

"All right, ma'am," they answered. "Here we are. We'll hold as still as ever we can."

Nick stepped into the water and measured them all, and then he said goodby and went back to the little store where Nancy and Mister Snip Snap were finishing some clothes for the Muskra family.

"Here you are," said Nick. "But instead of making places for tails, Mister Snip Snap, he sure to make places for four legs, because the pollywogs are so big they'll be frogs in less than a week." Mrs. Frog didn't say so, but Nick knew.

"All right," said Mister Snip Snap. "And make them out of rubber instead of cloth," said Nick. "For frogs won't stay out of water, and cloth will shrink."

"Say, Nickie," said the fairman.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB BEGIN FIRST DAY OF LIFE TERM FOR MURDER

Arrived at Joliet Penitentiary Last Night After Narrowly Escaping Death When Their Auto, Going at High Speed, Nearly Overturned

STATE PENITENTIARY, Joliet, Ill., Sept. 12.—After their first night in prison, spent in the "court solitary" where all prisoners must spend their first night in the Joliet penitentiary, "Dickie" Loeb and "Babe" Leopold, dressed in last night as prisoners numbers 3305 and 3306, faced the first day of life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks.

Today they were to attend the defense day exercises to be held at the penitentiary and Saturday evening they will have the privilege of attending the weekly motion picture show given for the entertainment of the prison inmates.

On Sunday they will have an opportunity to attend chapel services. In view of this outlined schedule the celebrated prisoners probably will not be put to work before Monday.

The boys were hustled to the penitentiary from the Cook county jail at Chicago early last night after a day of uncertainty as to the time of their departure, which was delayed for the completion of commitment papers by the state's attorney.

Death rode close behind the automobile that carried the boys to Joliet last night, for the car careened off the road while going 35 miles an hour and plunged onto the unballasted tracks of the Chicago & Joliet electric railway.

The prisoners, handcuffed to their guards, narrowly escaped death as the car plunged fifty feet down the track and came to a halt. The journey was then continued uninterrupted and the prison gates closed behind the new prisoners at 7:54 p. m.

They entered their new environs with an air of apparent interest and Warden John L. Whitman said they were well behaved during the preliminary proceedings incident upon the "dressing in."

Today life will have changed decidedly for these intellectual sons of millionaires. There will be no more meals brought to them from the outside, nor will there be visits from friends. Even visits from relatives will be restricted.

The world will probably learn how the prison environs affects Leopold and Loeb for it has been intimated that the psychiatrists plan to continue their study of the boys' mental makeup until tomorrow.

MOST INSIDIOUS FOES AT HOME

Women's Division of La Follette-Wheeler Campaign Issue Statement

Nation Needs Leadership That Is Not Afraid To Tackle Corruption

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A defense day statement issued today by the executive committee of the women's division of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign declared that "Defense day to most citizens carries the implication of protection from enemies from without, those foreign nations whichever they may be, that would despoil us."

"To the progressive women of America, the home guard of the nation," continued the statement, "Defense day conveys a more immediate charge, a more practical need—that of protection from attacks from within."

"The women of the nation know that the most insidious foes are the traitors in one's own household. The foreign enemy is the obvious one. He can be guarded against but the traitors at home who sap the integrity and the effectiveness of the institutions upon which the very life of the nation itself depends are the foes against whom the women of America seek defense."

"We need leadership that is not afraid to tackle corruption in high places, that will overcome indifference and route out inefficiency—inspiring leadership of any uncommon sort."

"The election of La Follette and Wheeler appeals to the women of the country because they will clean out the traitors at home, because they will break the hold on government, by those special interests that make for war and because their tolerance and humanity mean peace with all the world."

Mrs. Mabel Costigan, wife of Commissioner Costigan of the tariff commission, is chairman of the committee which issued the statement.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Judge Enright Scores Lawyers Absent When Cases Are Called

Judge Enright scored local lawyers this morning for failure to appear in district court and present their cases on scheduled time. His remarks were directed at two members of the bar who were due to appear in the case of Stanley Kolenchay, charged with receiving stolen property. Neither of the attorneys was present when the case was called, and the defendant would have gone to trial had not Capt. David Peirce asked for a continuance until tomorrow.

Harold E. Fulton was fined $10 for fishing in Long pond, Tewksbury, without a certificate. Walter A. Fulton, charged with the same offense, had his case placed on file.

Martin Sogel, threatening his wife, was granted a continuance of one week.

Bessie Metkowsky, illegally keeping liquor, failed to appear and was ordered defaulted.

James L. Ryan, drunkenness and operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, was continued one week.

William J. Cates, felonious assault on a 13-year-old girl, was continued in $1500 for 10 days. It was stated that evidence in his case has been presented to the grand jury.

Theodore Paradis, charged with being a vagrant, asked to be sent to the state farm. The request was granted.

Fernin Dupre, maintaining a liquor nuisance, was continued to Sept. 20.

John J. Nichols and Theodore Leonard, larceny of a rooster, and breaking and entering, were continued to Sept. 28.

Thousands of bees took part in a battle recently in a garden at Dartington, England.

A Japanese scientist has made a powder from fish, which will increase human height.

Patriotic Demonstration

The Empire State had proclaimed civic holidays and most factories and places of business closed in time to permit their employees to take part in the Defense Day observances. In numerous cities special church services were held.

A message from General Pershing was brought from Washington by airplane to Jamestown by Captain Harry Adamson and Lieut. Earl S. Hoag to a patriotic mass meeting in the state armory there.

In Watertown, as in other northern New York cities and towns, a civic holiday was observed and members of the national guard, regular army, American Legion and Boy Scouts took part in the celebration. At the vari-

President Coolidge Proclaims October 9 National Fire Prevention Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation today designating Thursday, October 9, the 53rd anniversary of the Chicago fire, as National Fire Prevention day.

The proclamation directed the attention of public officials, civic organizations and newspapers to the importance of carrying on fire prevention activities in the schools, homes and industrial establishments. "Although gratifying efforts are being made," the president said, "to lengthen the lives of our citizens and to conserve our diminishing store of natural resources, the nation's annual loss in life and property due to fire, continues to surpass that of any other country. It is reported that 15,000 American lives and property valued at $500,000,000 were lost in fires during 1923."

"The problem of combating this stupendous waste is of national importance. If it is to be diminished, special effort must be made to educate the public mind and conscience to the necessity of improving building construction, increasing protective equipment, and fostering a spirit of national carefulness. The preservation of thousands of lives and valuable property is a task worthy of our constant endeavor, and wholesome co-operation."

New England's Observance

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Military and patriotic organizations throughout New England joined today in the first observance of national defense day. Officers at the headquarters of the First Corps area here, covering New England, estimate that a million persons in the six states would combine with the 5000 troops of the regular army, 19,000 national guardsmen and 6000 reservists in carrying out the program outlined by the war department for the day.

No street parade was planned in Boston. Fifty organizations prepared to join in a great military pageant on Boston common this evening under the command of Major General Andre W. Brewster, commander of the First Corps Area. In this pageant, the army, navy, national guard, reserve officers, members of the Citizens' Military Training camps and 25 veterans, historical and patriotic bodies, to be represented. The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston will form the guard of honor for Governor Cox.

A public inspection of the harbor forts was part of the day's program in Boston, visitors reaching the forts by steamers arranged for by the army authorities.

A public meeting in the Old South meeting house at noon, addressed by the governor, Mayor Curley, Major General Brewster, Major General Clarence R. Edwards, U.S.A., retired, and Brig.-Gen. Charles H. Cole opened the day's exercises.

In every New England city and town having a military unit Defense day was observed with parades or other demonstrations, thousands of persons volunteering for the day to bring forth attachments up to strength. Every national guard unit was recruited to full strength for the occasion.

SECOND DAY OF GOLDEN COVE FAIR ATTRACTS BIG CROWDS

Big Tents Filled With Attractive Exhibits of Fruits, Vegetables and Flowers—Good Racing Card Features Afternoon Program—Many Attractions

The second day of the Golden Cove county fair, being conducted for three days under the auspices of Lowell Driving Club and Agricultural Society, opened with cloudy skies, moisture-laden and somewhat menacing. Nevertheless, the chilly atmospheric conditions failed to dampen the enthusiasm of faithful supporters of the organization, and the exhibition on Chelmsford across just over the Lowell line.

More attractive exhibits were brought today to the big tents where fruits, vegetables, flowers, home-cooking displays and examples of the arts and crafts are displayed. The bad weather that prevailed earlier in the week, caused the absence on the opening day of 43 exhibits, which were to have been installed in the show tents several days before the opening date.

because of the labor required to properly arrange them for public exhibition. These delayed arrivals of excellent selections from nearby farms and gardens, are now in place, and will increase the scope and the attractiveness of the entire show.

The second day of the fair brought more patrons, old and new, many from cities and towns far away. Last night, representatives of Groton and Acton fairs, and visitors from other Bay State communities where similar fairs are to be held later this month, were guests of Lowell fair officials at luncheon in a local hotel. The efforts of the driving club's friends residing in surrounding towns, who are doing their best to put this year's exhibition across in good shape, were lauded and the local officials informed that

"Emphatically, I am not."

On the basis of Senator Putnam's withdrawal announcement came the candidacies of Walter Perham of "National Defense Day" is being observed throughout the length and breadth of the land. Lowell is impressively revealing its loyalty to country and the flag of American liberty with patriotic fervor unequalled in the history of the community. Sept. 12, 1924, was ordained by the that upholds the banner of freedom with highest of ideals. Today, in Lowell, as in every other city and town in the country, state and nation, the American people are exhibiting with varied programs, including street and indoor public gatherings, parades, flag salutes, dedicatory ceremonies, speech-making and choral singing, their love of the United States of America and the stars and stripes, the latter ever emblematic of American freedom.

Lowell is prepared to present tonight an impressive public demonstration of its love of liberty and its preparedness for future national eventualities. The celebration, conducted under able auspices, and participated in by many thousands of patriotic citizens of both sexes and all ages.

AIRMAN OVER CITY AS PART OF DAY'S PROGRAM

As a contributor to Lowell's Defense Day observance, Lieut. R. C. Moffat, U. S. air service, appeared over the city in a Curtiss JN type plane at 12:45 o'clock this noon and flew around for 30 minutes. Because of poor visibility and low-hanging clouds the flier did not attempt any stunts. He traveled at an altitude of about 1500 feet and made a wide swing over the residential sections after leaving the downtown district. At 1 o'clock he disappeared down-river, but returned 15 minutes later, passed directly overhead and then turned his nose toward Boston. In five minutes the clouds swallowed him.

It was originally planned to send two De Havilland planes to the city, but inability to get them tuned up satisfactorily necessitated a change in the program and the lone appearance of Lieut. Moffat. Moffat has flown over the city a number of times when stationed at Devens before the East Boston airport was built.

Retires From Active Service

JOHN J. PERSHING

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATIONS MARK DEFENSE DAY THROUGHOUT U. S.

Signalize the Separation From the Military Establishment, At Least So Far as Active Military Service Is Involved, Of General John Pershing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The nation's defense machinery intended for actual use only in the event of a war emergency, was given its first test today accompanied by patriotic demonstrations throughout the United States and its possessions. It was a limited test, the actual expansion plans of the war department being designed to cover a period of months, but dealing only with the question of personnel and not with supply, equipment, housing or training, the progressive stages were consolidated into this one day.

The day's program called for a trial of the decentralized defense machinery set up since the national defense act of 1920 was substituted for the pre-war system. Demonstration of the success of the new scheme of defense, will signalize the separation from the military establishment, at least so far as active service is involved of General John Pershing, who has devoted his time since 1918 to perfecting it.

When the defense day tests actually go under way today it was apparent the war department officials, after studying reports from outlying commands, that their hopes had been entirely justified by the response throughout the country of men who for the

No More Streets to Be Opened for Paving Until Financial Situation Is Cleared—Balance Sheet of Department's Finances Startles Public Service Board

An acute situation in the street department's finances was acknowledged by the public service board last night at its meeting yesterday afternoon when a group of four city councillors, appearing before the board in regard to street improvements, were notified that the street department program of paving and macadam work could not be completed this year unless an amount roughly estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000 is furnished the department on loan.

So sadly depleted are the department's finances that the board voted to instruct Supt. of Street Harry Doherty not to open up any more streets for any kind of paving until the financial situation is cleared. He was also instructed to complete paving with granite blocks, asphaltic concrete.

LAKEVIEW AVENUE COBBLER IS BUNCOED OUT OF $2800

Three Strangers Push the Old Time Flim-Flam and Get Away With Shoemaker's Hard Earned Coin—Case Reported to the Police This Morning

A cobbler of Lakeview avenue, whose name is withheld by the police, was the victim of a $2800 swindle yesterday as the result of "falling" for a diamond flim-flam game worked successfully by three unknown men.

An ancient custom was employed by the flim-flammers in relieving the cobbler of his cash. According to the victim's story as related to Capt. Petrie, he was first visited by a man a few days ago, who left a pair of shoes to be repaired. They became friendly and the visitor succeeded in getting the cobbler interested in "diamonds" and also a small quantity of alleged gold, which he purported to be valued at $6000. He consented reluctantly, however, to part with the precious stones and the gold for half that amount.

The proposition did not appeal to the cobbler, but a second visitor strolled into the shop yesterday at a convenient moment. Friend Number One was there also, and again the subject of the diamonds was discussed. This time, the new comer became interested immediately and appeared interested in purchasing the property. He said he didn't have the necessary cash, however, but could get it if a friend in Boston, early last evening, he returned with the Boston friend, but in telling the cash, it was found that they still were short. They then promised to recompense the cobbler three of four hundred dollars extra on a loan of $2800. The temptation was too much for the unsuspecting shoe man and he produced the money.

This morning, he learned to his sorrow that the diamond which was left as surety, was practically valueless, and he reported the incident to the police.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—The disturbed conditions in China have resulted in the withdrawal of Presbyterian missionaries from points of peril in the interior to convenient seaports, according to advices received today at the Philadelphia offices of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions but it was explained that this precaution was taken not because of civil warfare so much as because of the operations of bandits which resulted in the killing of Rev. LIQUOR CASES BEFORE U. S. COMMISSIONER

At a session this forenoon of the court of U. S. Commissioner R. B. Walsh at the local court house, Bennie Pickler of Cambridge, charged with the illicit manufacture of liquor at a plant unearthed by federal agents in Bedford on Sept. 2, waived examination and was held in bonds of $500 for the federal court in Boston. Pickler was represented by Atty. Francis J. G. G. of the firm of Juggins & Fielding of Boston.

Charged with the illegal possession and manufacture of liquor at Billerica on August 20, Charles Boyden of 732 Moody street, waived examination and was held in $500 for the federal court. James Powicke, named as a second defendant on the same complaint, failed to appear.

The cases of William McLaughlin and Owen P. Sullivan, said to be employees of Ferncroft Inn, Middleton, were continued for hearing to Oct. 2. They are charged with illegal sale and possession.

GULBRANSEN

The Registering Piano

Real Piano Music—on the Gulbransen

The Gulbransen Registering Piano is an instrument played by music-roll-and-pedals, that you can play in a musical way, with all the expression and feeling you have.

To play what you will—as you will—when you will! To give full rein to all your undeveloped musical talent.

Just think what this means to you who have never learned to play by hand, or having once learned, have not had the time or opportunity to keep in practice! No tedious fingering! No long study!

Just think what the Gulbransen means to that musically-promising daughter—to that growing young son—to live in, and share in, such musical, homebuilding influences.

Real piano music? Yes. But, make this test yourself—

Try any simple piece on the Gulbransen. You will be delighted at the musical results you can get—so natural and pleasing. Then try an operatic air, or something more classical. You will be agreeably surprised how wonderfully well you can play it. Whatever kind of music you prefer—popular, semiclassic or classic—you will positively marvel at the personality and life you can put into anything and everything you play on your Registering Gulbransen.

Street Department on Verge of Bankruptcy

Concrete and reinforced concrete only the streets already excavated and ready for paving.

The extreme necessity for more money or a complete cessation of street paving became known when members of the board were furnished a balance sheet of the department's finances up to date of the meeting. Of the original appropriation of $150,000 for paving, but $28,571.38 remains of $100,000 appropriated for macadam, out of which is paid bills for asphaltic concrete and sheet asphalt as well as the expense of the city ledge, only $2,133.06 is left; and the $31,221.03 appropriated for new sidewalks has been reduced to $350.31.

Supt. Harry Doherty was called upon by Chairman Murphy of the board to explain to the city councilors present the reason for the money shortage and his defense was that his department requested for paving the sum of $330,000 and was granted but $250,000. He estimated the cost of completing the granite moving and macadam program at $75,000.

The councilors present, James J. Gallagher, Frank Stearns, Arthur Genest and Fred Sadler, were staggered when the figures were presented. Councilors Genest and Sadler suggested that a loan order for about $50,000 be presented to the city council Tuesday evening to cover the expense of completing paving work on Gorbham street, and Fourth avenue, Whipple, Walnut and Watson streets, all of which were on this year's program but have not been touched as yet.

President Gallagher of the council said the city had already borrowed within $12,000 of the limit set by the finance committee but could not say offhand how close it was to the debt limit. He wanted to check up figures of the cost per yard for last year and this year before going ahead on any loan. Councilors Sadler and Genest still favored a loan of $50,000 and the city engineer expressed a willingness to draw up the order for them.

The meeting in detail

The meeting was called to order at 4:15 o'clock with Chairman Murphy and Fred Leary present. A hearing was held on the petition of Michael Slack et al for a sidewalk of edgestones and chubers in upper Gorbham street. Michael Slack and George L. Hinton appeared for the petition and there were no opponents.

Councilor Fred Sadler asked that Walnut, Whipple and Watson streets be paved with asphaltic concrete this year as provided on the program of street work.

Chairman Murphy said there was no money left for the work, that there was only about $2000 remaining of the appropriation and that about 25,000 yards of the 37,560 yards scheduled to be done this year could not be completed.

The councilor was figuratively speaking, left gasping for air when the figures were presented, but asked why no work was done in ward 4 when work was being done on all sides of it, he said, the rollers now working in Gorbham street were going to be sent to Fourth avenue.

which, they said, was flooded to a depth of a foot by Tuesday's rain. The petition was voted.

Councilor Arthur Genest sought information concerning the disposal of petitions for edgestones in Alma street and Jordan street and a sewer in Farragut street. Mr. Leary said the sidewalk and edgestones appropriation was exhausted. The petitions were referred for view and hearing Sept. 25.

The councilor then rose to inquire if he had understood the superintendent correctly in saying that Fourth avenue was not to be paved this year. The superintendent said he was, and the councilor responded that that was "an awful slap."

Councilors Gallagher and Stearns inquired if Bridge street was to be paved as provided in the program. They received the same answer. The other councilor had—"there is no money for the work."

Mr. Murphy said the reason was that the council had not given money enough for the work. Councilor Gallagher responded that the council had appropriated $35,000 more than was spent last year on the same work, "but not the same amount of work," said Mr. Murphy and Mr. Leary.

Sewer Loan Order

The holding up of the emergency sewer loan order for $75,000 was brought to the attention of the board by Mr. Gallagher, and Mr. Murphy was asked to reply to a number of questions regarding the "emergency" by the city's fiscal agents, the First National bank of Boston. Mr. Murphy expressed the opinion that unemployment would not be considered an "emergency" by the bank.

The councilor then asked how the amount of paving done this year compared to last year. "About the same," was Mr. Murphy's response.

"About 5000 yards more," said Supt. Doherty.

"That is not so," was the verdict of City Engineer Kearney. Chairman Murphy then said the program for 1923 called for 21,893 square yards and this year's estimate is 25,020 yards. Reinforced concrete, he said, was estimated at 12,200 in 1923 and 24,800 in 1924, and no appropriation was furnished for the work. The sheet asphalt estimate for 1923 was 2512 yards and for 1924, 12,060 yards. The program called for 37,025 yards of asphaltic concrete in 1923 and 37,560 yards in 1924.

The only money left for street work, said Chairman Murphy, is the $18,000 loan for Lawrence street which cannot be used for any purpose other than for paving that street.

Councilor Stearns expressed great disappointment that Bridge street could not be paved this year. Councilor Sadler asked about sidewalk repairs and was told that the appropriation was expended. Supt. Doherty said that a large number of sidewalks had been constructed this year.

The painting of the iron work of Central bridge was requested by Councilor Stearns and the same answer was given him in this regard as had been given the others. "There is no money," said the board members.

Supt. Doherty said it would be a waste to spend any more money on

1924-1925 Winter Woolens

Old Time Fabrics

At Old Time Prices

WOOD MILL WORSTEDS OF LAWRENCE, MASS.

These goods bought two weeks ago direct from the commission house of Frise & Co., Summer Street, Boston, Mass., lower in price than anything I have seen in six years, lower in price than any buyer of woolens can purchase them a month from today.

No other tailor or clothier in New England today can talk about an all wool and worsted BLUE SERGE suiting this weight under $35.00; and I contend these fabrics compare very favorably for weight and quality of merchandise with suits selling around $40.

For a limited time the merchandise offered in this fall display is very exceptional; a small deposit is all that is necessary now—the balance when you need the garment. Many of these bolts are now displayed in my windows, around eighty yards in each piece. Be sure and see them, for this is an opportunity to effect a very considerable saving.

I will have on display eighty-five ready-to-wear overcoats just completed in my own workshop. Made in the latest models for this season. In these special samples are coats for the young sporty man and garments for the conservative dresser. I make these up in the dull months of August and September. I use them for window display, or you can purchase any one of these garments at any time when you cannot wait to have a garment made. I find them most convenient when a customer is in doubt as to what style coat would please him best. He tries on the different models, tells the designer which one he likes, and we cut him the garment he wants. No obligation to buy—we will be glad to give you any information you may desire.

 next season, the managements of six New England shows would be pleased to send special exhibits and attractive features to the Lowell fair without cost, to enlarge the scope of the Golden Cove program.

Today's amusement program included special race track events, starting at 2 p. m. Mrs. H. R. Philbrook of Concord, N. H., was scheduled to appear once more at the cove in a special match race. She appeared to excellent advantage in races conducted last Fourth of July at the Chelmsford track. In addition to the feminine attraction, there was to be one sulky race and one running race. The racing runners arrived late yesterday afternoon and are luxuriantly housed in a commodious stable tent located on the field close to the main entrance and inside the rails.

Judging of Exhibits
 Judging of exhibits was started this morning. Department 4 includes the horse exhibits with classes for pairs of work horses exhibited by farmers; work horses in open events, single horses over 1400 pounds, work horses under 1400 pounds, driving horses, saddle horses and ponies. Ribbon premiums are to be given in all classes except the contest for best saddle horses. The Don Marcho company has offered a silver cup to the winner in this department.

Only entries of cattle, whether for exhibition or educational purposes, can be listed in agricultural shows today after they have been accredited free from tuberculosis. There are many cash prizes in the Holstein classes, and from all appearances, Arthur W. Colburn of Dracut, will clean most of them up easily, for he has the only Holstein cattle exhibited at the show—two fancy bulls, one heifer calf, two milkers. One junior two-year-old and three triplets. The births of the triplets about a year ago, were recorded in The Sun at the time.

Chelmsford grange No. 244 has the finest farm products exhibit in the 1924 show tent. It is the cynosure of all eyes, for a fact, and occupies a prominent bench in the centre of the main tent.

The gladioli and dahlias exhibit under the Will Rounds management, is still a delight to every visitor. There are 120 different dahlias displayed in single vases, and 45 named and 60 unnamed gladioli. The variegated floral colors beat the well known rainbow. The size of some of the dahlias reaches six inches in diameter.

Erd Russell of Chelmsford has the most unique exhibition of farm products of the commonest varieties, according to fair officials and patrons all. It is a "special," and contains monster cabbages, ears of corn, summer and winter squashes and carrots. One Hubbard squash weighs 21½ pounds. They are grown on average soil that is not unduly nourished, but has good drainage.

Feminine visitors are deeply interested in the farm bureau millinery exhibit, as always. Nine hats are shown on the familiar spindle racks, constructed by farmers' wives at home, after taking the Middlesex county extension service free instruction lessons at winter gatherings in several churches and town and grange halls in county towns. The workmanship and material used are excellent and the designs modern to the smallest detail.

Imitation Apples
 The farm bureau executives have an interesting exhibit for apple-growers. Apples made of wax, shaped and colored so closely in conformation to nature's design as to deceive the spectator, are exhibited in display cases under glass, for the purpose of showing the havoc that insect pests and dread contagious diseases affecting fruit trees and their products, are wreaking in New England orchards today.

Imitation apples, some of them showing gnarled, ill-shaped and spotted with rot or showing worm holes or rusty spots indicating diseased fruit caused by maladies spread by unsanitary weather conditions, such as extreme dampness, are on display that all may see.

The apple-growers who find their fruit very often showing strange black marks and rotting ends, and do not know what disease is responsible, should visit the Lowell fair this week and inspect every wax apple in this amazing exhibit. It is an education revealing in itself, and will enlighten many an ignorant apple farmer, who is getting poor apple crops today and doesn't know the real reason why, because he is not familiar with the new pests that are coming yearly from foreign countries, apparently intent upon destroying all vegetation on earth. Farmers have known for many years, that the well known saying, "The insect is man's worst enemy," is absolutely true when it comes to tilting the soil.

The apple tree pests, all destructive and some of them listed at the Lowell fair descriptive exhibit, include the leaf hopper, the red mite, European corn borer, apple black rot, curculio, red bug, cedar rust, apple scab, and codling moth.

Lime and Fertilizers
 There are special displays of lime and other fertilizers for use in home gardens and on farms, also an exhibit of a bundle of alfalfa, grown about five feet tall in a Chelmsford farm lot.

Judging of all exhibits may be completed by tonight, although the work will take some time. Tardy entries have been admitted to the contest lists, because exhibitors had a good excuse for not appearing sooner in the week.

The automobile tent is filled with new cars on exhibition, and it is one of the big attractions of the 1924 show. Expert demonstrators are present to explain the merits of the different cars.

Arrangements for the Lowell Kennel club's special dog show are completed. All entered dogs will be brought to the show grounds at Golden Cove, for registration tomorrow. It is expected that the entries will be large enough to make another record for the local club promoting it. William H. Rigby, president of the club, is chairman.

Tomorrow, the race track card will be the top-notch of the work, it is anticipated. Three classes are listed, and the entrants are numerous in every event. Horsemen from out of town who have been here all the week, have several new animals on tap that have been kept waiting for the Saturday finals. There may be another running race on the oval tomorrow, also.

Yesterday's Races
 The racing card at Golden Cove yesterday was an excellent one. The triple $100 purse offerings on the popular Chelmsford half-mile proved

up to expectations, and the 240 trot, crowded with eight flashy entries, brought the expected thrills.

The first heat of the 240 event was marred by the spill of a driver, Ernest Pelletier, and the wild run away of his steed, the brown trotter John Potter, due to the snapping of the sulky axle on the first quarter effort. Pelletier was thrown to the dirt near the inside rail, but was not injured. The frightened bay galloped driverless around the Cove half-mile four times in rapid succession before being captured by a young man named Robert Cook, employed as a trainer.

Monster Parade Here Tonight

will include a monster street parade of patriotic humanity through the principal streets of Lowell, starting from the North common at 7 o'clock this evening, and proceeding to Memorial Auditorium.

The demonstration in the cause of liberty and a nation's preparedness is expected to make Lowell history. The favor of the enthusiasm of thousands of members of such Lowell organizations as the national guard contingents, school military organizations, organized reserves, veterans' organizations, fraternal and religious organizations, without exception, is sincere, appealing strongly to the instincts of those who realize what freedom in its fullest sense means.

National Defense day ceremonies, such as those to be presented tonight in the public thoroughfares of the city and in the great structure of East Merrimack street dedicated to Lowell's heroic soldier dead, are complements which, arranged in combination, present imposingly as one great civic display and demonstration of the inalienable preparedness for all emergencies threatening the safety and life of the United States and its possessions.

And it is only a demonstration of preparedness, not a threat of pompous war stamp. It is an experiment, not a challenge. Today's program is over the land in honor of National Defense day were actually prompted by a national desire to avoid the errors and confusions of the past, when war came without warning and the national life was threatened by its utter unpreparedness.

In plain words, today's exhibition of national preparedness for any eventuality that threatens the life of the American republic is a defense rehearsal, and in no sense a gesture of aggression. And Lowell is taking one of the most notable parts in the state and nation's preparedness exhibition programs—in some respects presenting one of the greatest demonstrations to be given anywhere in New England.

Monster Street Parade

It is expected that nearly 10,000 citizens will appear this evening in the great parade and also participate in the military ceremonies to take place immediately after the ending of the parade in front of Memorial Auditorium.

The national guard contingents in line will be commanded by Senior Officer Capt. George D. Crowell, Capt. Donald C. Macintyre, will act as adjutant at the lowering of the colors, at retreat at the Auditorium. Capt. Joseph A. Molloy, D.R.C., will command the trooping of the colors in the Auditorium at the exercises to be held there.

The schools of the city today joined in the National Defense day exercises at 10:30 o'clock, when Supt. Hugh J. Molloy's recently published article explaining the meaning of Defense day, was read to all public school pupils in every building. This was the only formal program in the public schools today, as the school children are to appear in chorus singing tonight, in Memorial Auditorium, under the direction of Chorale Frederik O. Blunt of the Lowell public schools.

At the Auditorium

Gen. Malvern Hill Barnum, commander of Camp Devens, will head the list of regular army officers to be guests of the evening. On the army officers' list will also be found Colonel E. P. O'Hearn, ordnance department, U.S.A., Lieut. Brown, commander of the Boston airport, and several army detached officers. James T. Williams, editor of the Boston Transcript, is to deliver the principal address, and Congressman John Jacob Rogers will also speak.

Lieut. R. C. Moffatt, aviator, will describe the story of the world flight and present many incidental details not heretofore printed. The mayor will open the indoor meeting and Rev. John F. McGarry, D.C.L., and Rev. Percy E. Thomas make remarks.

The ceremonies in front of the Auditorium will be very impressive. A large searchlight will display the massed colors, and provide brilliant illumination for the ceremonies in which the battery will participate in giving the national salute and the salute to the colors.

The gold star mothers will be honored with seats reserved in the Auditorium for the evening exercises. The same honor will be tendered to Grand Army veterans.

Many Lowell business concerns have provided floral decorations for the platform in the Auditorium, and flags decorate the interior of the building on every side of the hall. Regan's military band will play, after escorting the national guardsmen in the parade from North common to the Auditorium. Other bands in the parade include nearly every organization in the city affiliated with local fraternal and religious societies.

Many Catholic societies will appear in this evening's street demonstration of loyalty to country and fealty to the Stars and Stripes. The C.M.A.C. members have been requested to arrive no later than 6:30 p.m. at C.M.A.C. hall.

Darrow Says Caverly Right

Caverly, who sentenced them to life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks in spite of the state's demand for hanging, was right, Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, declared today. Mr. Darrow, after the close of the sensational trial in Chicago, came to the summer home of Albert H. Lobb, father of Richard, here.

"In five years the whole country will know that Caverly was right," he said. "In five years Nathan Leopold will be well, everybody will know that the insanity part of the defense was the truth. It will take a bit longer for Dick Lobb, perhaps, but it's come. Perhaps people cannot understand the matter now as I do, but they will come to comprehension soon."

"Look at this place," he added, referring to the great Lobb estate and the palatial home, "and see if a sane boy could leave it. It's absurd."

The Memorial Auditorium will not be opened to the general public until the culmination of the patriotic exercises scheduled in the open in front of the building. Aged veterans, the school children who are to sing in monster chorus and invited guests and speakers, together with musical organizations and committee workers, will be the only ones allowed to enter the Auditorium, until the doors are thrown wide open after "laps" are sounded on the river bank outside the building. At the proper time, the public at large will be invited to enter and participate in the ceremonies that will officially close Lowell's signally impressive contribution to the program revealing the patriotism and strength of the municipality.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
No farce comedy in recent years has attracted more attention than "Just Married," and the publicity earned by this play during its two years' run in New York, has made it well known from one end of the country to the other. In fact, it has been playing steadily throughout the United States and Europe for more than five years. "Just Married" is built for laughing purposes only. The play is the opening bill at the Opera House next week.

with the Stanley James Players appearing in the various roles, including the famous Vivian Martin and Lynne Overman leading parts.
The story of "Just Married" centres around a slightly nebricated young man who boards the French line steamship "Lafayette" by mistake just prior to the ship's sailing from Bordeaux, France, for New York. Later in the evening he gets into the wrong stateroom and the peace of everyone aboard is threatened. Old and young, sedate married couples, and several sets of honeymooners—willing and unwilling—are thrown into such utter confusion

ELECTED GRAND KNIGHT

Charles J. Landers Honored

Charles J. Landers was yesterday elected grand knight of Lowell council, 72, Knights of Columbus, to succeed the present incumbent of the of-ice, Frank A. Groves. The election took place in the headquarters of the organization, Harrington building, Central street, the polls being open that there is apparently no way out of their difficulties. But order is restored eventually, and the voyage peacefully concludes. Phone now for seats.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Klein Bros., makers of the latest of comedy, are the week's headliners at the B. F. Keith theatre. They feature a bill of laughter and speed, and their work is very generally commended. Bob Murphy and—this is the label of an unusual turn, and Stanford and Louise present one of the best dancing acts. Then there are C. H. Horn & Co. in "The Automobile Broker," Louis London, a singer in character, and Ponzi's monkeys, "Borrowed Husbands" is the picture.

LOEW'S RIALTO
Only two more days remain in which local theatregoers will be able to see the picture that has set Lowell talking! And that picture is "The White Sin" which has broken all existing house records at the Rialto where it played to capacity houses all the week. Beautiful Madge Bellamy is the star of the picture and she is seen in the role of an innocent little country girl who is tricked by a rich idler, into a mock marriage.
"Buddy Roosevelt in 'Rough Riding,'" a Sunshine Comedy and a Fox News are included in the bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
In a Paramount picture brimful of thrills and crammed with action that includes one of the mightiest oil-mazes on the screen, William Farnum makes a triumphant return to the silver screen after a year's absence, in "The Man Who Fights Alone," the feature attraction for the weekend at the Merrimack Square theatre. Farnum's characterization of the capable, forceful engineer whose unwarranted jealousy and suspicion of his best friend all but led to his destruction is nothing short of the work of a genius. Lois Wilson has the supporting role.
Jane Novak in "The Lullaby" is the second feature attraction. It is one of the noted stars' best pieces of dramatic work. Will Rogers in "Two Wagons, Both Covered," a satire on "The Covered Wagon," is the third feature.
For seven days beginning next Sunday afternoon the management announces Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire."

Cod Liver Oil

Thank Goodness You Don't Have to Take the Nasty Tasting, Ill Smelling Oil Any More for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets Can Be Purchased at Any Drug Store

Why should any old person let feebleness overwhelm them in these enlightened days? Surely everyone knows by this time that Cod Liver Oil contains more vitamins than anything else on earth and is the greatest body builder in the world.
You'll like to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—they are sugar-coated and as easy to take as candy and they do help old people.

Why not try being 10 years younger again—why not grow stronger in body, in mind, in vitality? Why not take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets and drop 10 years from your age in 30 days? We mean this literally, of course. We believe that a 30 days' treatment will make you feel 10 years younger—but at any rate try them for 30 days and if you are not satisfied get your money back—40 cents at Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dows & Co., Fred Howard, or any progressive druggist. Be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine.—Adv.

from 12 o'clock noon until 9 o'clock last night. Voting was by the Australian ballot. Other officers elected, besides the grand knight, were the following:

George E. Murphy, deputy grand knight; James J. Brain, chancellor; Patrick Sweeney, recorder; Philip J. Brown, financial secretary; Frank J. Minnegan, warden; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; John J. Lane, outside guard; Eugene Fontaine, inside guard; James F. Gaffney, trustee for three years; Frank A. Groves, G. K. delegate to state convention; John E. Hart, P. G. K. first alternate; George F. Briggan, P. G. K. second alternate.
The grand knight-elect is very well and favorably known in local fraternal circles. He has been affiliated with the Knights of Columbus for a number of years, and has served in numerous official capacities. He was first elected deputy grand knight, for five years he performed to the satisfaction of his superiors as a district deputy, an office which gave him wide experience and a knowledge in the conduct of K. of C. affairs. In his capacity as a district deputy he has assisted in the exemplification of degrees in many cities and towns within the state jurisdiction. He also assisted in the installation of several new councils.

He has been a valued member of the board of trustees for several years, and had another year to serve before the expiration of his term. In fact as secretary of the board of trustees he has been a most capable adjunct to the business end of the council and hence he enters office unusually well equipped. Two years ago, he was honored by the state convention by being selected as a delegate to the memorable Atlantic City convention of the organization, and last year, he was a representative at the Montreal convocation. He was a tireless K. of C. worker during the war, and is one of the most active workers for the order, a fine talker and a young man of splendid judgment.

Mr. Landers and the other officers will assume their duties on Oct. 1. Formal installation will take place at the first regular meeting next month at a time to be determined by the new grand knight.
The retiring officers, through Grand Knight Groves, wish to thank all those who assisted them in their duties during the past year.

American Davis Cup Defenders Meet Australian Challengers in Doubles

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—With confidence born of two clear-cut victories in the singles, the American Davis cup defenders met their Australian challengers today in the only doubles match of the competition, eager to hang up the third victory and thereby assure the retention in the United States of the famous trophy, symbol of international lawn tennis team supremacy, for another year.

William H. Johnston of California will make his first appearance in this year's play today. Paired with William T. Tilden, national champion, who yesterday conquered Gerald P. Patterson, star of the invading team, in such impressive fashion, he will meet Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, who bowed to the superior tennis of Vincent Richards of New York in the other singles match of the opening day's play.

In addition to the Davis cup play, two other interesting matches were in store for the spectators today. The final round of the girls' national championship, in which Miss Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., and Miss Alice Francis, Orange, N. J., will meet, has been shifted to the Germantown Cricket club, where the international competition is under way and a doubles exhibition between Howard Kinsey, a member of the American Davis cup team, and Manuel Alonso, Spanish star, and Fred Kalmes and Richard Schlesinger, member of the Australian Davis cup combination, also will be played.

PRESIDENT OF CHILE ON WAY TO BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 12.—President Alessandri of Chile, beginning a six months' leave of absence following the assumption of power by a military junta at Santiago, was en route to this city today on the Argentine presidential train which was sent to the frontier and placed at his disposal. Senator Alessandri, who became a guest of the American embassy in Santiago during the cabinet crisis, was accompanied to the frontier by American Ambassador Collier on a special train flying the American flag. At Mendoza he was received by the governor of the province and other high Argentine officials, and transferred immediately to the Argentine presidential train.

GREEK OPERA CO. GIVES CONCERT HERE

Liberty Hall was well filled last evening and a gracious welcome was extended the Greek National Opera company, A. Contrato, conductor, which is touring the United States and Canada. Last evening offered one of the few opportunities for local Greeks to enjoy classical operatic selections in their own language, and their appreciation was shown by the attendance which greeted the singers. Present at the entertainment were Archbishop Vasilios and Rev. Fr. Constantinos.

A varied program of patriotic, love and comic songs in quartet, trio, duet and solo arrangement composed the excellent evening's entertainment. The opening number, "The Ionian Sailor," quartet, a pleasing number provided ample opportunity for blending Mrs. Kyriaki, soprano, singing Messrs. Moraitis, tenor, Economides, baritone, and Vlahopoulos, bass. "The Haunted Bridge" was a solo by Mrs. Kyriaki, a thrilling composition telling of the experiences encountered on the enchanted structure. The solo work in this number was pleasingly interwoven with the more tempered parts.

"The One, or the Other," a duet, by Messrs. Moraitis and Vlahopoulos, a beautiful love song was generously applauded by the gathering.

"Djavalas," a patriotic number which told of the deeds accomplished by the hero who died for his country brought rounds of tumultuous applause.

"The Fisherman," in quartet arrangement, a fitting melodious composition was most pleasing.

"Why," a passionate love song given by N. Moraitis admirably brought out the rich tenor voice of the singer.

"Under the Moonlight," a trio for male voices with the solo part being sustained by N. Moraitis proved the stellar number of the evening and presented the singer at his best. In Kavadias, composer- pianist, was the accompanist of the evening and his instrumental interpretation of the several numbers added greatly to the general excellence of the program.

PAWTUCKETVILLE CLUB WILL JOIN PARADE

At a meeting last evening the members of the Pawtucketville Social club voted to participate in the "Defense Day" parade and to furnish a delegation. A committee consisting of Timothy Roy, Arthur Giroux and Louis P. Turcotte, appointed by President Alphonse Fortier, reported on plans for the parade. About 50 members of the club enlisted for the occasion. Councilor Arthur Conest discussed the project of building a bridge across Beaver brook. It was announced that there will be a mass meeting Sunday evening in the club house in upper Moody street where the matter will be discussed further. All residents of Pawtucketville and Centralville are invited to attend. Plans regarding the improvement of Fourth avenue will also be announced.

SOLUTION OF NATION'S COAL PROBLEM

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Solution of the nation's coal problems rests with householders and the industries. It was declared today by Prof. S. W. Parr of the University of Illinois at a meeting of the section of gas and fuel chemistry of the American Chemical society, presided over at Cornell university by Dr. E. T. Hissam of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Reporting upon the chemical findings of the nation-wide investigation just completed by the coal storage committee of the American Engineering council, Professor Parr, a member of the committee, said that storage would cure the evils of intermittent mine operation, transportation congestion and irregular supply. POLITICAL WINDSHIELD STICKER BANNED

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The political windshield sticker must follow the bathing girl into the discard. This is the edict of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin issued today. Drastic action is promised by the registrar in the case of any who fail to comply with the mandate. "Complaints are constantly coming to this office," the registrar said today, "that candidates for office are pasting advertising stickers on the front of their windshields. From personal observation I know that practically every one of them interferes with the vision of the operator. Even when in the right-hand corner they are very likely to prevent the driver seeing quickly a small child who may leave the right-hand curb. "Any man seeking political office should be public-spirited enough not to permit any of these to be used on any part of the car that may interfere with the operation of it. There are plenty of places on the car where these stickers may be put. "If they are not taken off, I hope the police will prosecute those who persist in keeping them on, and when specific instances are called to my attention, drastic action will be taken by this office. "The removal of the bathing beauties met with unanimous approbation except for a few cranks, and these political stickers, as a rule, are more of an obstruction to the view than the bathing beauties." —HOTT.

ROUND-UP OF FILIPINO STRIKERS

LEWIS, Island of Kauai, T. H., Sept. 12 (By the Associated Press).—Police, aided by National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets and machine guns, continued their round-up today of Filipino strikers involved in a riot last Tuesday at the McBryde plantation, near Hanalei, in which sixteen Filipinos and four policemen were killed. One hundred and thirty alleged strikers are held in jail here on charges in connection with the disturbance.

FURTHER RISE IN CONNECTICUT RIVER

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 12.—A further rise of a foot in the Connecticut river at this point today halted the work of cement pouring on the new North End bridge between this city and West Springfield. The river has risen several feet, a condition almost unprecedented at this season, the result of heavy rains in Vermont. No property damage has resulted here.

Retirement of Pershing
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—General Pershing will be retired from active service tonight at midnight by orders issued and signed personally by President Coolidge, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States.

The order, issued only in cases of retirement of military officers who held the rank of full general, will take the form of a general announcement to the army that General Pershing has passed to the retired list.

It is probable that the order will be accompanied by a personal letter from President Coolidge recounting the general's services to the nation.

Hundreds of reserve officers, many in uniform, for the first time since they were mustered out of the service, took the opportunity to bid farewell to General Pershing.

Messages of greeting were received by General Pershing from officers of the allied armies associated with him during the war. One came from Maj. Gen. Deben, chief of staff of the French army, who declared "your brothers in arms will keep alive always the memory of the eminent chief who brought the valiant American troops to France and led them to the common victory for right and liberty."

Celebration in Middle West
CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—"Defense Day" was ushered into the middle west today by parades and reviews in which hundreds of thousands of national guardsmen participated and by patriotic rallies, parades and mass meetings where public speakers emphasized national preparedness. Half holidays were declared in a number of states and in hundreds of towns and cities. The major demonstrations, however, are scheduled for the evening in most localities.

Major-General Harry C. Hale, commander of the Sixth Army Corps Area, United States army, in a message to employees of all industrial establishments within the area, said: "Our nation loves peace and hates war. We want no more of it; but nevertheless wars do come. This country has experienced a war each generation since its birth and I have to admit that our success in these wars has not been due to preparedness, but rather to favorable circumstances. Congress, in 1920, passed the National defense act. It is the first law that thoroughly considers our problem of national defense, and for the first time in history a plan was laid down and the war department authorized to prepare a national defense policy. Under the provisions of this law, the army of the United States is at present organized, trained, administered and supplied."

Two sham battles were fought today at Yankton, S. D., and at Evansville, Ind. At Jeffersonville, Ind., $75,000,000 worth of army supplies were publicly exhibited and several thousands of Indians near Winona, S. D., participated in a patriotic pow-wow.

In Wisconsin, despite the order of Governor J. J. Blaine that national guard commanders would be deprived of their commands if they called out their units, the day was observed with patriotic rallies and mass meetings in almost every city.

In Kentucky, Governor Fields called upon citizens there to assemble at county seats to "learn more about your national guard."

Major General John Hulen of Houston, Texas, commanding the 8th Division, announced that preliminary to Defense day, two units of the division had been recruited beyond their war strength and indicated that interest was such that the entire division would be easily placed on war-time basis.

General Hulen expects that reports today will show that the 8th Division has demonstrated that it can be placed on a war-time basis at call.

Modern Version of Civil War
BALTIMORE, Sept. 12.—Approximately 5000 troops from regular army and national guard regiments and as many "one-day volunteers" marched today in Baltimore's defense test day parade. The column ended a march through the streets at the Baltimore stadium.

Military manoeuvres were executed at the stadium while several airplanes, piloted by members of the Maryland National Guard flying corps gave exhibitions of stunt flying overhead.

Interest in observance of the day outside of Baltimore centered at the Civil War battlefield of Antietam near Sharpsburg, where 2000 United States marines, commanded by Brigadier General Dion Williams, concluded a two weeks' program of field exercises by staging "a modern version" of the famous Civil war encounter.

Gov. Smith Leads Parade
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Thousands of national guardsmen, soldiers of the regular army and members of civic organizations took part in parades and reviews in all parts of New York state today in connection with defense day observance.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith was to return from the state fair at Syracuse in time to lead the parade of 10,000 persons in Albany who planned to march late in the afternoon.

Practically all cities and villages of the state participated in the day.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says well known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an indigestant with aspirin or artificial diet which only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and Bisurated Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bisurated Magnesia, to sweeten and settle the acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge or blotting paper might and your stomach acts and feels fine in just a few minutes. Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is not a habit and is not at all expensive.—Adv.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEMOID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee. Don't waste any more time with outside treatments. Get a package of HEMOID from Green's Drug Store today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.—Adv.

Good News for Ailing Women

Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent county-wide canvass of over 121,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies received showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial.—Adv.

My Skin

Is due to a super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper
After 25 years as a single star—I still look a girl of 19. The thousands who see me daily know that, and wonder how this came about.

The chief reason lies in a new-type clay. I started years ago with the old-type clays, crude and muddy, which so many still employ. They brought me amazing results. But I have kept in touch with scientific progress, and in 20 years it has brought me a clay which gives multiplied results.

Today I have what experts call the last word in facial clay. It is white, refined and dainty. And it embodies many new discoveries. Until I obtained this, I never knew one-tenth what clay could do.

Now I am supplying this clay to others. I call it my White Youth Clay. All druggists and toilet counters have it—exactly the clay I use. And I am stating its results to girls who want more beauty and to women who want youth.

My White Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores.

No girl or woman who once enjoys its results will ever go without it. I want you to know what it does. My good fortune obtained it for me. I was famous as a beauty, so every expert sought to give me the greatest aids to beauty. Now I wish to bring like beauty to millions.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you. Edna Wallace Hopper, 100 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago.—Adv.

defeat bravely and success lightly. He is a type authors write about.

Three years ago I saw him for the first time. It was during the Pulitzer air races in Detroit. Unknown to the large crowd that watched the feats of the airman, it was Nelson who was firmly imbedded in its memory. As might be expected, he won the race in which he competed.

Nelson was born in Sweden. There still is a delightful mingling of his native accent in his speech.

In Brooklyn the busy time for the larger stores begins when New York's day ends.

Much of Brooklyn's population spends the working day in New York. The Brooklyn stores are empty during that period. There is no one in a shop.

In the evening the Brooklyn stores do their rushing business. They remain open until 10 o'clock.

Children in the slums of New York often have to use extreme ingenuity in getting the most from their playthings.

Yesterday I saw two urchins having a wonderful ride on one roller skate. One of the boys had the skate attached to his right foot. The other climbed atop the first one's back and perfectly balanced the two rolled along in glee.

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

Today the people of this country are called upon for a demonstration of loyalty in the line of national defense. It is a call that should not be ignored even though in reality it means little more than a reminder of individual duty and responsibility.

How vastly different such a call is from that which was issued repeatedly by Lincoln in the Civil war for volunteers to save the union. When that call came, the men of Lowell were among the first to respond and they were with the first detachment despatched to defend the capital, then threatened with attack. Lowell had the further honor of giving the first martyrs to the union cause when Ladd, Whitney and Taylor fell in the riot on the streets of Baltimore.

Still later, in the Spanish American war, Lowell men did their full duty and from that conflict we had such heroes as George Charette, who volunteered to perform the daring feat of sinking the steamer Merrimack in Santiago harbor.

And when the World War came, Lowell men did not all wait to be drafted. Many of them volunteered for service in the army and navy and many there were who made the supreme sacrifice.

Today we may thank God that this nation is at peace with the world, and that while it is the part of wisdom to be ever prepared, yet there is not the slightest indication of war on the international horizon so that we can rejoice over a world at peace. Furthermore, there is a steadily growing sentiment that in the near future effective steps may be taken to prevent war and to establish a permanent reign of universal peace which would settle outbreaks between rival nations without bloodshed and thereby make another World War impossible. The agencies of destruction now available are too terrible to be loosed upon humanity even in a just cause. When war becomes but another name for extermination of a large part of the human race, it is certainly high time to think of some effective method of preventing such outbreaks.

When the boys respond to the call of Defense day, they go joyously and are not followed by the heart-breaking farewells of weeping mothers, wives or sisters. Oh no, today's exercises constitute but a dress parade, so to speak, and yet the day is a reminder of the duty of preparedness and the necessity of being ever ready like the Minute Men of Concord and Lexington to respond instantly when our country calls for defenders. Today she calls for a public manifestation of loyalty that may help inspire the rising generation to a sense of duty and responsibility in always standing ready to defend the country and the flag. In this every patriotic citizen should do his duty.

MR. DAWES BLUNDERS AGAIN

Again has Gen. Dawes, the republican candidate for vice president, run afoul of the party policy of saying only what will tend to catch votes and win favor with the electorate. Out in Colorado, Mr. Dawes spoke plainly just what he thought in reference to the economic problems confronting the farmers of that and contiguous states.

What was his paucity?

Simply have government regulation of production so as to prevent a surplus, cause a scarcity and thus keep prices high. That plan was promptly condemned for the reason that if the farmers saw any virtue in such a method of getting relief from their present troubles, they could adopt it themselves without government intervention or supervision.

But Mr. Dawes did not stop there. He would abandon the reclamation projects by which alone a vast number of farmers are enabled to make a living. Abandonment of reclamation would be equal to a sentence of eviction for fully 300,000 farmers who would thereby be left homeless and penniless. There are 1,200,000 acres of land brought under cultivation and made productive by reclamation through irrigation from water stored in great reservoirs; and although congress makes occasional appropriations, the expense is eventually paid by the farmers who cultivate the land. On this irrigated land is raised a large portion of the best sugar crop of the state which brings from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually.

The application of the Dawes plan would cause a loss of many million dollars to the farmers of Colorado alone and hence his speech has aroused indignation in the northwest, with the result that Mr. Dawes, who is making a tour of the western states, is using Mr. Dawes' speech as campaign material. The republican papers have judiciously refrained from publishing more than a mere reference to the obnoxious speech; but the democrats are to issue it as a campaign document.

The Dawes plan, so-called, for the settlement of the reparations issues between France and Germany, has evidently had some merit; but his proposition for the betterment of the farmers of Colorado and the northwest is pronounced a piece of the most stupid absurdity. The republican cause has thereby suffered seriously in the west; and not only Mr. Dawes but La Follette will use the speech as an argument against supporting the republican ticket. Senator Horah and other republicans are astounded at the Dawes blunder and it is likely that hereafter his speeches must be censored by the president or the national committee.

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA

It would not be surprising to find that the great powers will intervene in China to prevent a continuance of the civil war now in progress. The Chinese have a peculiar method of conducting war after the first few battles have been fought. The usual custom is for each side to win over the officials of the opposition by bribery. Thus it is already reported that one of the generals is offering very liberal sums to deserters from the other side. For example, if a private soldier deserts from the enemy and joins the winning force, he receives $1000; if he brings with him a machine gun he gets $20,000; for an airplane $50,000; and for a full regiment or the head of an opposing general $50,000. It is difficult to decide in the present conflict, which side is right; in fact, it would be safe to say that both are wrong, and that as a result of the outbreak, the Chinese people will suffer irreparable loss of life and property unless peace be soon restored.

SEEN AND HEARD

Conscience is the best reformer.

The way of the drunken autocrat is not always smooth paved.

It's only a few steps from the auto to the district court.

It takes a financial contortionist to make both ends meet.

A little loving now and then has caused the shooting of some men.

To the pure all things are pure, and to the crazy all things are crazy.

It may be more blessed to give than to receive, but paying isn't half as nice as collecting.

A Thought

The smallness of our desires may contribute reasonably to our wealth.

Cobbett.

He Needed It

The boy had been fishing for four hours when the inquisitive man came along and inquired what he was doing. "Fishing," replied the boy, tersely. "Got anything?" asked the man. "Yes," came the reply. "What?" queried the man. "Patience," said the boy, still more tersely.

The Poor Bookie

"The Americans," remarked the distinguished and deeply serious visitor, "are a singularly light-hearted people. They keep singing about the utter lack of bananas today." "Do you dislike the song?" "Not at all. But why should there be general rejoicing over the fact that the fruit crop is a failure?"

Knew What Was Meant

"Did you ever have an imbroglio with your husband?" asked the high-brow lawyer. "Neh." "Never had an argument?" "Neh." "Then why are you asking for a divorce?" "She doesn't understand," whispered the other attorney. "Ask her if she ever had a fuss." "Did you ever have a fuss with your husband?" "O, plenty of dem."

Finally Understood

She was apparently a French woman who spoke Russian or vice versa, and when she visited the home office she produced her passport over and over again in the tongue of her conversation with several porters and messengers. Eventually they found a man who in 1919 had been transferred from the French to the North Russian front. After a long conversation intelligence came to this man. Stopping the woman's conversation with one hand, he beckoned to his colleagues with the other. "Lad wants a house or a small flat," he said.

He Was Hard Put

Mrs. James was a very modern young wife and spent the greater part of the day expressing her views to the neighbors upon subjects artistic and literary. So occupied was she with matters intellectual that she neglected her home duties. One evening she noticed that her husband was looking somewhat depressed. "My dear Harold," she said, "you seem greatly disturbed of late—please, will you have the goodness to explain your conduct?" "Darling," he replied, in trembling tones, "I—I have always endeavored to carry out y-your slightest wish, and, d-darling, by that vow that binds us, and has bound us from that day when you first said you would be mine, I—I ask this boon—Will you please put—some buttons on my shirt?"

Cares

The little cares that fretted me,
I lost them yesterday
Among the fields above the sea,
Among the winds at play;
Among the lowing of the herds,
The rustling of the trees,
Among the singing of the birds,
The humming of the bees.

The foolish fears of what may happen,
I cast them all away
Among the clover-seeded grass,
Among the new-mown hay;
Among the husking of the corn,
Where drowsy popples nod,
Where all thoughts die and good are born.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

A very pathetic and rather tragic scene was enacted in the square recently. It was about 5:30 o'clock and as is the rule at that time the center was crowded with shoppers and workers bound for home. A young man seemed in earnest conversation with another gentleman who by the way carried a "crip" and soon the young man left with something clutched very tightly between two folded newspapers. Stopping in front of the old Courier-Citizen building, apparently to wait for a car, he kept looking about as though he were suspected. Then without a word of warning, something slipped from between the papers, and crash came the sound of broken glass and to behold what was the treasure but a pint of what kind reader—I leave you to imagine. Parties who examined the label said it read "Aged in Wood," and the fellow gave one look at the broken bottle and its valuable contents flooding the sidewalk, and darted off up Merrimack street while sympathetic onlookers had all they could do to hold back the tears. It was interesting indeed to see men and women on their way by stop and stare at the strong odor, then sigh for the days long gone by. It is presumed the young man in question spent one miserable evening pondering over the broken bottle. He must have been a novice in the business.

Rev. James F. Lynch of St. Michael's parish will represent St. Michael's Holy Name society at the convention which opens in Washington, D.C., on Sept. 18. To date, Fr. Lynch is the only local delegate who has definitely decided on attending the monster rally. Rev. Fr. Calligan of St. Mary's church informs me that one or two men will go from his parish, while Rev. Fr. Sullivan of the Sacred Heart is contemplating sending at least one representative from his parish. Other branches of the society in this city will arrange plans between now and the convention date.

The auctioneering firm of W. B. Guyette has begun the circulation of advertisements for the sale of the old Lowell jail at Thorndike and Hale streets. Thousands of descriptive booklets are being mailed to various cities and towns and preparations are being made for the sale, which will take place on Sept. 24. The booklet, explaining in detail, the property to be disposed of, contains pictures and diagrams of the interior and exterior of the buildings and land. It is quite attractive.

With the reopening of the various clubs affiliated with the International Institute comes the news that numerous arts and crafts will be taught during the year. Among the classes in domestic science are cooking, sewing, millinery and home decorating. A new course offered this year is the making of jig-saw toys, and decorative articles, two subjects which are of major interest to the attendants.

The evening classes of the Vocational school offer excellent training in various branches of domestic science for girls and mechanical trades for boys. It seems that the opportunities offered by these classes are not as widely known as they might be.

The Middlesex Women's club which opens the first Monday in October has an interesting program to offer its members this year. If this year's offering but equals last season's program, it will be excellent.

OLD DOBBIN

A little ol' buggy, one-seated and frail, is the only one known 'round the place. As droopy-head Dobbin is switchin' his tail he is 'trollin' a lazy-like pace.

Right close to the curb goes the shiny ol' mare and it's horse sense that makes it that way. What safety there is, Dobbin knows that it's there by the curb in this speed-crazy day.

An auto horn blows and the horse perks its ears; then they droop, just as suddenly, down. There still is a spark of the speed-crazy fears as she travels around about town.

Forgetting ol' Dobbin is sentiment robbin'; how easy we all can forget. How changed is the scene from when Dobbin was queen, but her spirit is laughin' on yet.

DAWES ASSAILS LA FOLLETTE

Calls Third Party Leader the "Master Demagogue" in Address at Milwaukee

Says La Follette Aims to Undermine Constitution of Republic

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press) The La Follette independent candidacy was attacked here in its recognized stronghold last night by Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, as "the quintessence of demagogism, animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of this republic."

Speaking in the Milwaukee auditorium, Mr. Dawes declared that "in the mass of clap-trap accompanying the La Follette effort we can see one steady purpose always in mind—the attack on the constitution of the United States," and it was to this "attack" that Mr. Dawes devoted most of his attention.

The republican nominee described Senator La Follette as "the master demagogue," warned against any party attempting to take a position in the half-way ground between "those who favor the constitution of the United States and those who would destroy its essential parts," declared this division to be the greatest issue of the campaign, and appealed to the voters of Wisconsin to decide the issue "by a full vote of the registered voters, not by the fractional vote which, for the last four years, has been cast in Wisconsin."

Mr. Dawes said he recognized that there were in the country "many men who are justly discontented, but who are patriotic at heart."

"They may be opposed to certain things in the existing order, but they are not opposed to the existing order of things," he added. "I warn them that they should not be deceived by the catch-all phrases of this master demagogue, endeavoring to amalgamate them with the socialists, flying the red flag, in an attack on the constitution of their country."

The republican candidate combined with his attack on the attitude of the La Follette movement toward the constitution an assault on the statements made by Senator La Follette in his Labor Day address.

"In its strong appeal to the prejudices and passions of the people, the speech was unusual, but in no other way," he asserted. "Never in the history of the United States has the common sense of the average individual received a greater affront. La Follette's speech should raise the question in the minds of the American."

ST. ANTHONY'S PARISH LAWN PARTY

The St. Anthony's parish lawn party, interrupted by rain, will be held on the parish grounds in Central street tomorrow. In the afternoon a program for the children will be given, while in the evening the adults will be entertained.

All of the features that attracted such large crowds the other two nights will be repeated, while a number of new events are also on the program. The various tables, filled with embroidery, dolls, etc., will be open and refreshment booths will also be conveniently arranged around the grounds.

The dancing on the green, an enjoyable feature always, will hold forth with music by a capable orchestra. The entire grounds will be brilliantly illuminated and decorated.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL AT HIGH SCHOOL

Freshman football will get under way at the high school next Monday afternoon, when the first practice session will be held at Alumni field, according to a notice issued today by Physical Director Donald M. MacIntyre.

It is expected that a large number of freshmen will attend the practice for Mr. MacIntyre and his assistant, Arthur Lynch, hope to have sufficient material to form several teams. No schedule for the freshman team has been made up yet but it is planned to play four or five games during the season with such teams as Chelmsford high, Howe high of Billerica, and Mitchell school, also of Billerica.

TAKES OUT PAPERS FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To William F. Newhall of 1 Clinton avenue goes the credit for being the first candidate for school committee to take out papers at the election commission office.

Mr. Newhall, who has been a candidate for school committee in previous years, appeared before the board this morning and was given the necessary papers.

At the municipal election, three school committeemen will be named for two terms of three years and one for two years, to complete the term of Franklin Johnson, who died during the first year of his term of office. Mr. Newhall is candidate for a term of three years.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Combination Ranges Are Now

Out of Date

In homes where there is no radiator or other method of heating from a furnace many people have installed what is known as a combination range—in which both coal and Gas can be used, the coal furnishing the heat for the kitchen.

The housewife has always found that this method was costly, and has caused more or less dirt and dust in that one room in the house where she has to spend most of her time.

The person who values cleanliness and who is naturally thrifty installs a

MODERN GAS RANGE and a COKE HEATER

The Gas range will take care of the cooking at a minimum cost and with no dust or dirt, while the Coke Heater will heat the kitchen quickly and economically, and with very little work.

We advise those who are forced to furnish heat for the kitchen to ask about this ideal combination—Gas Range and Coke Heater.

Dawes Assails La Follette

people—Does he consider us a race of fools?"

Mr. Dawes, in beginning his discussion of the La Follette movement, which he characterized as "the culmination of the most dangerous era of demagogism through which this country has ever passed," quoted the declaration in the La Follette platform, providing that congress might by enacting a statute make it effective over a judicial veto.

"This proposition," he asserted, "is to abrogate the principle of three-fold division of power—executive, legislative and judicial—which is the basis of our constitution, and make the executive and judicial power subordinate to the legislative power. It means that for our present form of government, we are to adopt another in which congress will predominate. The success of such a doctrine, which would mean that the constitution would be stripped of authority, would be disastrous, and government would become the plaything of changing political parties, with demagogues in the saddle."

"The effect on the individual, Mr. Dawes told his audience, would be to place his bill of inalienable rights, evolved through centuries of struggle and conflict, 'at the mercy of congress' and subject these rights to the threats of 'mob action.'"

"The courts of the United States," he continued, "are the guardians of the inalienable rights of individuals, including the freedom of the press, the rights of property and religious tolerance. They interpret laws passed by congress in their relation to those rights upheld by the constitution. What kind of a government would this be if congress had the right to pass a law taking property from one man said, provided in its system of checks and balances sufficient safeguard "to render certain that only the ultimate right and sound judgment of the people crystallize into law."

"The government whose policy is determined by the ultimate judgment of the people will permanently survive," he added. "The government whose actions are determined by the passing phrases of popular opinion, as distinguished from ultimate opinion, will perish. The constitution of the United States establishes the rule of the people as distinguished from the rule of the mob."

Such doctrine could not be classed as reactionary, Mr. Dawes said, adding that all good citizens should condemn the reactionary as usually pictured—"one who stands against honest progress in government and in favor of some status quo from which he is supposed to derive an unfair individual benefit."

"The most dangerous reactionary is the man attacking the constitution of the United States," he said. "Such a man would open the way for a condition of things under which again, in poverty, confusion and misery, the people must evolve among themselves, constitutional instruments of stable and free government, under which the inalienable rights of the individual are protected from the aggressions of the majority and from government itself. Let us not deceive ourselves! The doctrines of the socialists of the United States, headed in this campaign by Robert M. La Follette, are the reactionary doctrines."

La Follette Withholds Comment
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Senator

Robert M. La Follette intends to withhold comment, at least for the present, on the attack made on him by Charles G. Dawes, republican vice-presidential nominee, in a speech delivered last night in Milwaukee.

Intimates of Senator La Follette said today that he probably will make no direct reply to General Dawes at any time during the campaign. He feels, they added, that the public, particularly in his home state of Wisconsin, is familiar with his record in public life, and that it would be better to keep on the offensive during the campaign than to allow himself to be put on the defensive.

In discussing campaign plans with friends, Senator La Follette frequently has remarked that he prefers to abstain from personalities, confining himself in his addresses and statements to a discussion of issues.

"Perhaps," he said recently in this connection, "I may be forced to mention names, although I don't want to."

RUM-RUNNERS "PROTECTED"

Salisbury and Newburyport
Police Officials and Selectmen Before Grand Jury

To Be Questioned on Charges That Rum-Run-
ners Are Protected

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Police officials of Salisbury and Newburyport and three members of the board of selectmen were among the witnesses summoned to appear today before the federal grand jury which has begun an investigation of charges that rum-runners were "protected" in their operations by officials of northeastern Massachusetts cities and towns. Seabrook, N. H., which adjoins Salisbury, also comes within the scope of the inquiry, it was said.

Agents of the department of justice who investigated the charges reported that rum-runners and liquor dealers received protection in several shore resorts, and that bribery and corruption of officials was indicated. Witnesses admitted, the agents said, that the weekly "protection" rate for liquor dealers was $50, while rum-runners paid large fees.

The grand jury inquiry, it was said, was brought about by women of the towns involved who complained that the laws were being violated openly. The present investigation is the second undertaken by federal authorities, the agents said, affidavits procured in the first instance having disappeared from the files of the department of justice. The Salisbury selectmen summoned as witnesses are Roscoe George, Ruel Getchell and Harold F. Congdon. The latter being also chief of police. Proprietors of beach resorts and businessmen also have been called to testify.

Street Department on Verge of Bankruptcy

Central bridge and Councilor Gallagher said that quite a bit would have to be "wasted" to keep it in repair until such time as a new bridge is built.

Councilor McPadden appeared to request the repair of several streets in his district but did not remain to enter into the discussion as to money. Councilor Stearns then requested repairs to streets and sidewalks in the Christian Hill district east of Beacon street.

Councilors Sadler and Genet had been holding a conference while the meeting was in progress and finally asked what money would be necessary to complete the streets that they had asked about.

"It will cost approximately $24,000 to do Fourth avenue," said Chairman Murphy, "and $18,000 more to do Walnut, Watson and Whipple streets."

Supt. Doherty said Broadway must be done and estimated the loan necessary as $75,000. The two councilors favored the idea of putting in a loan order for $20,000, but Councilor Gallagher said that he would like to see comparative figures of cost per yard before going ahead. "We don't want to encourage wasting of money," he said, "and this year's work shouldn't cost more per yard than last year's." Councilor Sadler said the only thing to do was to get the loan and the city engineer agreed to draw up the order for him.

The question of time was then discussed as the greater part of the work included in the proposed loan must be completed by the first week in November. Thirty days at least will be necessary to get the loan through, according to Councilor Gallagher. The question of getting the money on an emergency order was discussed, but this plan was not deemed a good one.

Asphalt Work Discussed

Chairman Murphy then took up the asphalt work being done by the Indian Head Construction company. From the figures available, only $1000 was on hand yesterday to pay for the work and Mr. Murphy said he didn't see how the company could be allowed to go ahead with the work any longer, for it was not the policy of the board to encourage spending of money when there was no appropriation. Then he said to Supt. Doherty, "Don't open any more streets for granite block paving." He then added, "And stop all excavating for new construction throughout the city." His orders were put in the form of a motion and carried.

Mr. Leary asked what was to become of the men employed on paving and Mr. Murphy suggested that they be employed in digging weeds out of gutters throughout the city. Mr. Leary supplemented that a great many could be employed by the sewer department, and Supt. Doherty acquiesced.

The employment of 150 additional men in the sewer department, as voted at a previous meeting, was next discussed. Chairman Murphy suggested that as it was doubtful if the $75,000 emergency loan would be approved by the fiscal agents, he favored notifying the civil service to hold up the certifying of men for the jobs until the matter was settled. As a motion, his suggestion was passed.

A number of petitions and orders were disposed of and the board adjourned at 5:45 o'clock to meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Baby Tortured Day and Night by Eczema

Resinol Stopped Itching and
Healed Sick Skin

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 10:—"I thought it might interest you to know how much Resinol has done for my baby. Her face was covered with scabs and the itching was so severe I had to keep stockings on her hands to keep her from scratching. I had to be up at night as it bothered her so she could not sleep. Two doctors, one of them a skin specialist, told me she had eczema. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped, so when I read in the paper about Resinol, I thought I would give it a trial. I can't praise it enough, for it has done wonders for the baby's skin and she sleeps all through the night now. I would advise anyone with a similar case to try Resinol Ointment." What is there about a cup of Coffee that you like?

Is it true that tastes are partly mental?

Is it true that many people think coffee is good because it has a great reputation?

Or, is there an indefinable something about a coffee which makes you like it better than any other coffee you ever tried?

Taste, we believe, is a sense that cannot be standardized. Personal preference, we believe, is just as subject to popular fancy as is a style that Paris sets.

You know what BEST means from that standpoint. But applied to coffee, it means satisfaction all around:

- that which folks talk about;
- that which makes it necessary to serve another cup;
- that which leads a housewife to say: "It IS the BEST—and I serve it because it is."

We, as creators of La Touraine Coffee, have only a friendly battle with others who offer coffee.

There are human desires sufficient to earn a living for all who have coffee to sell.

And there are other GOOD coffees, too.

We can never hope that EVERYBODY will prefer La Touraine Coffee, although millions do. And the number is constantly increasing daily. It would take the "pep" out of life and business if everybody thought the same.

What the House of Quinby is trying—successfully—to accomplish is to—

Buy up to the highest standard of quality. Blend up to the highest standard of quality. Roast up to the highest standard of quality. AND KEEP THAT STANDARD UNIFORM.

And so, we'll rest our case—

Upon how YOU like the results of the famous La Touraine formula—a secret formula known only to a handful of men—a formula from which the House of Quinby never deviates in putting into La Touraine Coffee that INDEFINABLE SOMETHING which has made it the BEST coffee in the opinion of so many millions of people.

We cannot tell you as much about La Touraine Coffee as La Touraine Coffee can tell you about itself—when you try it.

Will you do that? Once?

And see if you agree with us when we say—"YOU MIGHT AS WELL HAVE THE BEST."

COOLIDGE MAY SPEAK DEMAND FOR GERMAN NAME MABEL NORMAND IN MIDDLE WEST

AIR POST STAMPS

NAME MABEL NORMAND IN COUNTER SUIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge is expected by some of his advisers to accept a few of the many invitations he has received recently to speak in the middle west.

Among the scores of invitations which have been extended to the president by various organizations are included requests for him to speak in Chicago, St. Paul and cities farther west. Mr. Coolidge is understood to be giving careful consideration to the invitation to speak in Philadelphia on Sept. 25.

The president's program for today was a full one. After meeting with the cabinet this morning, most of the afternoon had been reserved for his review of the Defense day parade from a stand in the rear of the White House. This comprises his participation in the day's events, the president not having planned to speak in connection with the exercises.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 12.—German air post stamps for mail being sent to the United States on the ZR-2 have been going like hot cakes here lately, the government postoffice department having given notice weeks ago that "it would be wise to do your Zeppelin mailing early."

Stamp collectors were hopeful that special stamps would be issued for the trip, but these were not forthcoming, the department advising customers to use the ordinary air post stamps, "Deutsche Flug post."

Letters cost one gold mark (84 cents) and post cards 50 pfennings.

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
Perryburg, Ohio

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,—"if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unswerving testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommended it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ada Frick, R. SILESIA TURNS TABLES ON ABBOTS AND WINS, 5 TO 3

Series Now Tied at One All—Greenhalgh in Form—
Teams Will Wind Up Season With Twin Bill at
North Chelmsford Sunday

The series now stands: Abbots 1, Silesia 1. Silesia tied it up at North Chelmsford last night by defeating the Abbots 5 to 3 in an interesting game. Local fans will have their last opportunity to size up the contenders next Sunday afternoon at Silesia park when a double header will be played, the first game to start at 2 o'clock. It will mark the last diamond appearance of both aggregations this year, but will decide the present post-season series. Abbots won the first game at Granville Tuesday night by a 5-2 count. Silesia Greenhalgh pitched the Silesians to victory in last night's game. He was opposed by the southpaw, Eddie Boyce, who was touched up frequently by the pill hitters. The fifth inning proved his undoing when four big runs crossed the pan. Lowell's Henry Sullivan started the fireworks with a mean triple to deep left field, which gave the Silesia boys an incentive to go out and overcome a one-run lead that the Abbots had gained in the second frame. After that fifth start, Silesia played a snappy brand of ball and won out with comparative ease.

First Inning—Abbots—Ellie Urran, the first batter, got a single past shortstop. Williams fled out to Faulkner. St. Angelo hit into a double play. Silesia—Faulkner grounded out, Dameron to Boyce, the latter covering the bag prettily. Driscoll fled out to Ellie Urran. Conley got a base on balls, but was stranded when Fied grounded out to Dameron.

NASHUA TEAM DEFEATS NORTH CAMBRIDGE

Scoring two runs in the sixth inning and two more in the eighth, the Nashua team of the Central Twilight League came from behind and defeated No. Cambridge, pennant winner of the Greater Boston circuit, on North common, Nashua, last evening. The score was 4 to 3, with Wyckoff of Nashua and McCrehan of the Cantabs engaging in a pretty pitchers' duel. Nashua got seven hits, and North Cambridge five. A ninth inning rally by the League men was nipped after one run had been registered. The score:

SUNDAY'S GAME

The St. Joseph's Cadets, leaders of the Junior Twilight league, received their second defeat of the league season last evening on the North common when they bowed to the Victorias, 2 to 0. The game was in reality a battle between opposing pitchers. Noel of the Victorias and Richards of the Cadets. The men were evenly matched. Each allowed but two hits and each struck out 10 men.

The opening frame witnessed the first rally when Lemieux was hit by the pitcher. He stole second and on the sackman's failure to catch a ball tore all the way around and collected a run. In the third round Lemieux was again at bat. He slammed a one-bagger past the first basemen, stole second and repeated the performance at third, coming home on a sacrifice fly to O'Brien. Only two men managed to get on base for the Cadets.

BIG GAME IN PAWTUCKETVILLE

The Pawtucket A.A. runners-up in the City Twilight league, and Kelley All Stars will meet on the new Pawtucketville diamond Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and a red hot game is expected.

John Kelley, manager of the All Stars, formerly headed the P.A.A. team and he has assembled a classy array of talent to oppose his former charge. Naturally there is considerable rivalry between the outfits, and both are prepared to present their strongest line-ups.

As the proceeds of the game are to be donated to the Building Fund society of the new St. Rita's church, the entire district is interested in the contest.

FOOTBALL

The Butler Blues football team are reorganizing for the season and will hold their first workout Sunday afternoon. Manager Nelson requests that the following men report: Wittersmith, Powers, Sarge, McGadden, C. McGadden, Duffy, Neal, Gillis, A. Deslauriers, P. Deslauriers and McCann.

REDS BUY PITCHER

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—Everett Morris, a right-hand pitcher, six feet, two inches, tall and weighing 180 pounds, is the latest purchase by the Cincinnati Reds. Morris has been pitching for the Nashville club of the Southern association. He will report to the Cincinnati club next spring.

P.A.A. LOSES FIRST GAME OF SERIES

Marie's Americans got the jump on the Pawtucket A.A. in the first game of their series on the South common last evening, winning out by a score of 5 to 1. Herb Muldo opposed Chick Tardiff on the rubber and had the better of the argument. John Souza, with three safeties to his credit, was the hitting star of the game.

Owing to Defense day activities this evening, the second game of the series has been postponed until further notice.

WESTERN TEAMS SLOWLY FADING OUT OF PENNANT PICTURE

Race in Each League is Narrowed Down to a Twosome—
Yankees and Dodgers Gain on Senators and Giants in Fight for First Place

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press) While the New York Giants are hanging by the tips of their fingers to a scant lead in the National league, the New York Yankees are driving frantically on the heels of Stanley Harris' Washington Senators to overcome the narrow margin that separates them from first place.

The race in each league is narrowed down to a twosome instead of a threesome, the western teams slowly fading out of the pennant picture. While Detroit must still be considered in the running in the younger circuit due to the "breaks" in the schedule which favor it, the chances are looking more favorable every day for the American league pennant to fly over the banks of the Harlem or the Potomac.

Pittsburgh is also slowly emulating a setting sun. The Giants yesterday spent an idle day while Brockton, continuing its relentless spurt to overtake the McGraw athletes, won over the Phillies and drew up to within speaking distance of the plunaso.

The Phillies, however, made Uncle Robbie know there was a baseball game in progress as the Robins were forced to stay 11 innings to win the decision, 3 to 1.

The Yanks gained yesterday by winning a pair from Boston, 4 to 3, and 5 to 3, while both Washington and Detroit sank their puts in the victor cup, the Senators trouncing the Athletics, 7 to 4, while the Tigers nosed out Chicago, 5 to 4, in an overtime session.

Cleveland, tugging desperately to squeak into the first division ahead of George Slaters' Browns, gave the St. Louis team a double, trimming, 12 to 7, and 10 to 6. Frankie Ellerbe's circuit slap in the ninth inning with the bases saturated aided in bringing about a decision in the opener.

Bronze Panther Tames Wild Bull of the Pampas in Boyle's Thirty Acres

FRANKIE HEBERT KNOCKED OUT IN EIGHTH BY WEE WILLIE WOODS

Lowell Boy Stopped by Scottish Flyweight in Moody Club Main Event—Tommy Leonard Kayos Dan Mahoney—Gus Anderson Drops Jackson

The local boxing scene got away to a good start at the Moody club last night when the Moody club, successful promoters of glove battles here for the past several seasons, piled on the lid with four smashing bouts and a radio account of the Willis-Firpo battle.

With a view of terminating the show in time to permit the fans to listen in on the big heavyweight battle, the local cards were run off with speed and precision, and at three of the four events ended in knockouts, the entire program was over early and the majority remained to hear Johnny Hogan's Mike, aided and abetted by the announcer par-excellence, Barney Moran, give the blow-by-blow account of the panther's triumph over the Bull of the Pampas.

Considerable extemporaneous comedy backfired fans as Barney told of "Willie" various blows added to the enjoyment of the occasion. Dan Donohue, Mike Markham and Jockey Brady were there with the witty remarks. A few fans like that Barney informs the gathering that "Willie shoots two lefts to Firpo's kidneys." Jockey replies to "Willie" to another description of the fight, "Willie's left hand is quivering like Barney was talking about the meat market in the square. Mike's said: 'Willie lands one to head, bringing it down to the kidney.' Mike inquired 'What, the kidney?'

Woods Stops Hebert

But the local card itself was a hum-dinger. In the main event WEE WILLIE Woods, flyweight champion of Scotland, won a knockout victory over Frankie Hebert of Lowell in a hard-fought battle, the end coming in the eighth, when Woods landed one of his wild jugs to the head, bringing it down to the mat, to be counted out while in a kneeling position.

In the early part of the fight Hebert had the better of the argument, when he outboxed Woods and scored repeatedly to the head and body. Woods worked a rocky battle, he took many of Hebert's blows on the head and appeared content to shoot in heavy body blows and beat for an opening to get over his rival, driving sleep producer.

Woods was as wild as a hawk and many of his blows went low, causing Referee Martin Flaherty to warn him on complaint of Hebert's manager, Funch Mayo, who claimed the local boy was being repeatedly fouled.

Hebert's boxing was superior and at long range execution he had it on the visitor weakened Hebert, and forced him to forget his cleverness and away to swap punches with Willie. This was Woods' stepped to the front, and he launched a whirlwind attack, knocking Hebert down with a wicked smash, and Frankie dropped to the canvas, there to remain, until Referee Flaherty counted nine. He jumped up and closed in for the remainder of the distance.

WILLS BEATS FIRPO INTO COMPLETE SUBMISSION IN 12 ROUND BOUT

80,000 Fans See Negro Heavyweight Decisively Defeat Argentinian in Bout That Surprised Gathering by Going the Distance at Boyle's Thirty Acres

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press.) The panther has tamed the wild bull of the Pampas in the battle for supremacy among the ring's juggernauts.

Wills was the conviction that close to 80,000 spectators carried away with them last night after Harry Wills had battered and beaten Luis Angel Firpo into complete submission in a 12-round bout, that surprised the entire gathering by going the limit.

Margin Declared

When the smoke of conflict had cleared from Boyle's Thirty Acres, Wills stood off the conqueror by a margin so decisive that it left no room for debate.

Wills' Firpo's mighty right was regarded to impotence by a crafty, shifty defense, the giant negro pounced and early Argentine down for a count of four in the second round and whipped him thoroughly in the other 11 with a smashing, brain-shaking, battery of thrusts to head and body.

Wills won by a one-sided margin on points. He fought a cool, carefully planned battle. In superb condition and employing all his boxing knowledge and ring skill, the big negro blocked the most furious of Firpo's rushes and at the same time delivered an attack at close range that steadily beat down even the staunch courage and endurance of the massive South American.

But convincing as was Wills' triumph over Firpo, and his proof that he had come back to remarkable fighting condition, his performance did not, in the opinion of most critics, brighten whatever prospect he has of dethroning Dempsey. To those who watched the giant negro pound and wrestle his ponderous opponent into submission, there remained a conviction that, for the present at least, Dempsey has little to fear.

Wills showed all the ring craft, speed and skill which has lifted him close to the top of the heavyweight heap. Firpo, crude as he is, looked good by comparison in the final analysis the fact remained that Wills did not have the power behind his punches to send Firpo down for the final count.

How to Cope With Firpo

The negro fayed Firpo with every blow in the basic category—sharp jab to the ribs and kidneys, rapid-fire thrusts to jaw, sweeping right to the head and body and short left uppercuts that stung. It was a straight right to the chin that sent Firpo sprawling to his knees in the second round, but though the Argentine was on the verge of a complete knockout, Wills could not successfully follow up his advantage.

That outstanding blow was delivered under unusual circumstances. It came as they were breaking from a clinch and with Firpo's guard down, Wills landed the blow with his right hand, coming from the side. It was a straight right to the chin that sent Firpo sprawling to his knees in the second round, but though the Argentine was on the verge of a complete knockout, Wills could not successfully follow up his advantage.

Wills staggered Firpo on several other occasions, but he was slow to follow up his advantage. Several times, in sporadic rallies, Firpo connected with his right swing. But none landed with the force of the drive that sent Dempsey flying out of the ring a year ago and none had any decisive effect upon the negro.

Receipts Close to $500,000

During the bout Firpo frequently complained of Wills' holding and tactics on the breaks.

The Argentine and his handlers claimed Wills was resorting to foul tactics, but referee Dan Sullivan declined to uphold their contention.

No definite figures on the receipts were available early today but Rick, who placed the amount at close to $500,000, which was a new mark in financial returns for a non-championship bout.

Of this amount Firpo will receive much more in spite of defeat than Wills in victory. The Argentine was understood to have been guaranteed close to $250,000 while Wills' share was placed at $100,000.

Fight by Rounds

Round 1—They met in a clinch in the center of the ring and wrestled in Wills' corner. They clinched again in the center of the ring, the referee prying them apart. Wills staggered Firpo with a right to the jaw, but the changed blows at close quarters. Wills got in three heavy blows without a return, while Wills was much worse and staggered Wills with his heavy right, first to the body and then to the jaw, but the negro was unhurt. Firpo planted a right uppercut, but the negro only smiled. The Argentine was right and Wills rushed him across to fight ropes with a panther-like leap. They were fighting furiously at the bell.

Round 2—Firpo landed four rights to the jaw as they met in the center of the ring. Wills staggered the negro with a body punch. Firpo was landing his right consistently to all parts of Wills' body and head. They clinched. Wills knocked Firpo down with a left to the jaw, but he was up at the count of three, apparently unhurt. Firpo fell into a clinch when he got up. Firpo was wild with his right. Wills missed a right. They continued to clinch. Firpo landed his right solidly to Wills' head as the bell rang.

Round 3—Firpo rushed out of his corner with a characteristic leap, but Wills immediately fell into a clinch. They exchanged blows at close quarters. Wills was lying on his back, but whenever possible, Firpo landed to the head and body with his right and took a right to the body in exchange. Wills was wild with his right. Wills missed a right. They continued to clinch. Firpo landed a beautiful uppercut to Wills' jaw, but the negro countered with a barrage of body blows. Firpo missed a lunging right just as the bell sounded.

Round 4—They fell into a clinch at the bell. Firpo's right found Wills' body and the negro immediately clinched. The referee used his knees to pry the two apart. The referee warned Wills for holding on. Both landed pretty appreciable blows. Wills with a right swing on the face, but the negro followed up his right with a right to the jaw. Wills missed a right and got a right uppercut to the jaw in return. They were in a clinch at the bell.

At a rousing and enthusiastic meeting of the St. Peter's Cadet football squad held at the St. Peter's school hall Wednesday evening, Francis Regan, popular local athlete, was chosen for captain to lead this year's eleven on the gridiron. Edward J. Rogers was again chosen to fill the position of manager for the team, and that the members hold "Edgie's" work in high regard is clearly shown by his re-election to this important position. Regan is a very fine athlete and should prove a great leader. It was stated at the meeting that a strict schedule of practice for the boys this year, but if enthusiasm and willingness count for anything, the St. Peter's team this year is bound to go out and give the best teams of the state a fight. It is expected that a coach will be engaged in a few days and immediately afterwards practice will commence.

WILD CAT FOOTBALL TEAM

The Wild Cat football team will hold its first practice Monday night at 7 o'clock at the corner of Stanley and West Sixth streets. All students planning to play this year, but if enthusiasm and willingness count for anything, the St. Peter's team this year is bound to go out and give the best teams of the state a fight. It is expected that a coach will be engaged in a few days and immediately afterwards practice will commence.

po and the Argentine clinched. Both landed a blow to the body. They wrestled around the ring, pulling and hauling at each other. Firpo landed twice to the head. Wills was blocking beautifully. Firpo could not get for a blow. Wills hammered Firpo's kidneys. Wills' right stung Firpo, the Argentine countering with an uppercut right in the nose. They were sparring for an opening at the bell.

Round 6—They exchanged rights and lefts to the body. They clinched and body punching at close quarters. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' head. The negro smiled as he blocked Firpo's legs. Firpo rushed the way across the ring to evade one of Wills' rushes. Wills' right found Firpo's jaw again, but the South American got in a weak uppercut which sent Wills' head backward, just as the bell rang.

Round 7—They fell into their usual clinch as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo danced away from Wills' right. The Argentine's plunking rushes were missing. Wills doubled Firpo with a left to the body. They pulled and hauled each other around the ring, hitting with their free hands at any opening available. Firpo got a right to the head and left the head with a left to the body. Wills could not block, but no damage was done. Wills jabbed with his left and crossed with his right, staggering Firpo in his own corner. Wills was hitting harder than his opponent. A right to the jaw made Firpo groggy. Two heavy body blows followed, but the bell stopped Wills from following up further.

Round 8—Wills' left found Firpo's body and his right went to the jaw as they met in the center of the ring. Firpo jabbed weakly with his left, but Wills blocked a right across which followed. A straight right sent Firpo's head backward. The negro was superbly. Wills hit to the body in a clinch. Wills' punches were carrying more steam than his rivals. Firpo was short with a right uppercut. The negro landed twice to Firpo's body. They broke from a clinch as the bell ended the round.

Round 9—The negro tied Firpo up when he started one of his rushing attacks. Firpo led with his right and fell into a clinch. They exchanged body blows at close quarters. The negro's right was both a punch and a jab. Firpo stood off and peppered Firpo at long range, landing effectively six times without an absolute return. Firpo was going away at Wills' right which hit his jaw. The negro was gaining confidence. Firpo led with his right but Wills cleverly blocked the blow and caught Firpo on the side of the head coming in. Firpo's right hit Wills' head on the head but the negro only smiled. The bell stopped the fight in the middle of a clinch.

Round 10—They exchanged body blows. Firpo protested to the referee for hitting in the clinches. Wills' heavy right was finding Firpo's body consistently. Wills landed a one-two punch to Firpo's head and the Argentine clinched. Wills landed to Firpo's body but took a stiff one in his wind to return. Firpo danced away from a right and then clinched. Firpo landed weakly to Wills' jaw and followed with a right to the body which stung the negro. Wills took a beautiful right on the jaw just as the bell rang.

Round 11—Wills rushed to meet Firpo but the Argentine clinched. Wills hooked his right to Firpo's jaw as the referee attempted to part them. Firpo landed his right to Wills' jaw and followed with a right to the body, but the blows failed to stem. There was much wrestling and hanging on by both principals. Firpo stung his right to Wills' jaw twice in rapid succession, but the negro kept concentrating to Firpo's body, which was pink from the heavy battery of blows which he had absorbed. Firpo was getting a right over better but also taking plenty of body punishing. They were tied tight at the bell.

Round 12—They shook hands. They immediately clinched. Firpo hanging on desperately. Wills was opening up by trying frantically to put over a finishing blow. He continued his relentless body attack. Firpo was hanging on savagely. Wills missed a right but landed two successive rights to the head, a moment later, Firpo landed his right straight to Wills' face, but the negro continued to smile. They continued their clinching and wrestling tactics. Firpo getting the worst of the exchanges which followed. They were clinched at the bell.

at the famous racing stables of Fred L. Burke, in Rowley, Mass. Mr. Burke is a trainer of grand circuit horses. Cook knows all their whims and funny notions, and proved it yesterday at Golden Cove.

The spectators picked out the No. 1 track course as promising for real class and hip-and-tuck racing, and they picked a winner by their selection. When Alito Delmar, Lynsky's bay gelding, and Pelletier's Barcelona, brown gelding, match up at the Cove track on any occasion, there is always a battle. Yesterday's first race brought the rivals together once more and each of the three heats run off were sizzlers, and easily distancing Todd most of the way around the two whites and Delmar capturing three of the four heats.

Barcelona did his best work in the first heat, but Delmar was not pushed to the limit on the first round.

The second race was not the fastest ever time-clocked at the half-mile in Chelmsford. It took Mariano 2:15, 2:16½ and 2:17½ in the respective three heats to win, which is not 2:12 by any means.

The last race of the opening day brought out eight horses, with such drivers of the popularity label as Carr, Dimodana, Young, Thomas, Fletcher, Pierce, Arnold Ryan and Pelletier. Mariano with Carr up won all three heats, although Dimodana's Aquilin D was no small potatoes in several times and easily distancing Todd in third position, notwithstanding Young's excellent driving.

Peltocher's horse, Barcelona, played the same cards for the men from Ayer as in the 2:12 race. One-fourth and three-eighths were the best the veteran horseman could do with one old-time bay mare that can't land a 2:40 today as she used to easily in days gone. And Fletcher never yipped once!

LEOPOLD AND LOEB BEGIN FIRST DAY OF LIFE TERM FOR MURDER

Arrived at Joliet Penitentiary Last Night After Narrowly Escaping Death When Their Auto, Going at High Speed, Nearly Overturned

STATE PENITENTIARY, Joliet, Ill., Sept. 12.—After their first night in prison, spent in the court solitary where all prisoners must spend their first night in the Joliet penitentiary, "Duke" Loeb and "Babe" Leopold, "dressed in" last night as prisoners numbers 9305 and 9306, faced the first day of imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks.

Today they were to attend the defense day exercises to be held at the penitentiary and Saturday evening they will have the privilege of attending the weekly motion picture show given for the entertainment of the prison inmates.

On Sunday they will have an opportunity to attend chapel services. In view of this outlook, schedule the celebrated prisoners probably will not be put to work before Monday.

The boys were hustled to the penitentiary from the Cook county jail at Chicago early last night after a day of uncertainty as to the time of their departure, which was delayed for the completion of commitment papers by the state's attorney.

Death rods close behind the automobile that carried the boys to Joliet last night, for the car careened off the road while going 25 miles an hour and plunged onto the unballasted tracks of the Chicago & Joliet electric railway.

The prisoners, handcuffed to their guards, narrowly escaped death as the car plunged fifty feet down the track and came to a halt. The journey was then continued uninterrupted and the prison gates closed behind the new prisoners at 7:54 p. m.

They entered their new environs with an air of apparent interest and Warden John L. Whitman said they were well behaved during the preliminary proceedings incident upon the "dressing in."

Today life will have changed decidedly for these intellectual sons of millionaires. There will be no more meals brought to them from the outside, nor will there be visits from friends. Even visits from relatives will be restricted.

The world will probably learn how the prison environs affects Leopold and Loeb for it has been intimated that the psychiatrists plan to continue their study of the boys' mental make-up.

MOST INSIDIOUS FOES AT HOME

Women's Division of La Follette-Wheeler Campaign Issue Statement

Nation Needs Leadership That Is Not Afraid To Tackle Corruption

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A Defense day statement issued today by the executive committee of the women's division of the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign declared that "Defense day to most citizens carries the implication of provision of protection from enemies from without, those foreign nations whichever they may be, that would despoil us."

"To the progressive women of America, the home guard of the nation," continued the statement, "Defense day conveys a more immediate charge, a more practical need—that of protection from attacks from within."

"The women of the nation know that the most insidious foes are the traitors in one's own household. The foreign enemy is the obvious one. He can be guarded against but the traitors at home who sap the integrity and the effectiveness of the institutions upon which the very life of the nation itself depends are the foes against whom the women of America seek defense."

"We need leadership that is not afraid to tackle corruption in high places, that will overcome indifference and route out inefficiency—inspiring leadership of any uncommon sort."

"The election of La Follette and Wheeler appeals to the women of the country because they will clean out the traitors at home, because they will break the hold on government, by those special interests that make for war and because their tolerance and humanity mean peace with all the world."

Mabel Costigan, wife of Commissioner Costigan of the tariff commission, is chairman of the committee which issued the statement.

President Coolidge Proclaims October 9 National Fire Prevention Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge issued a proclamation today designating Thursday, October 9, the 53rd anniversary of the Chicago fire, as National Fire Prevention Day.

The proclamation directed the attention of public officials, civic organizations and newspapers to the importance of carrying on fire prevention activities in the schools, homes and industrial establishments. "Although gratifying efforts are being made," the president said, "to lengthen the lives of our citizens and to conserve our diminishing store of natural resources, the nation's annual loss in life and property due to fire continues to surpass that of any other country. It is reported that 15,000 American lives and property valued at $500,000,000 were lost in fires during 1923.

"The problem of combating this stupendous waste is of national importance. If it is to be diminished, special effort must be made to educate the public mind and conscience to the necessity of improving building construction, increasing protective equipment, and fostering a spirit of national carelessness. The preservation of thousands of lives and valuable property is a task worthy of our constant endeavor, and wholesome co-operation."
